Special Education Program Good But Has Room For Improvement

By Julie M. Barry

Andover special education program is a good one, but there's still room for improvement.

Those were the findings of a report completed by the Chapter 766 Study Committee and presented to the School Committee this month.

After a year of studying questionnaires and evaluating data, the study committee presented its results to the School Committee, which accepted the report at its Tuesday, Jan. 5 meeting.

The purpose of the study, according to School Committee member Margo Tilghman, was to "see what the level of satisfaction was (with the program); then for the areas of dissatisfaction, suggest remedies to the school committee."

The study group used parent and teacher questionnaires and presentations by the 766 Department as the basis for its report.

Three questionnaires were used. One was sent to parents of special needs children in the town's school system; one went to parents of special needs children outside the system; and the third was sent to special and regular education teachers.

According to the report that came out of the data the group collected, the two most significant aspects of Andover's program are that it provides a student with an opportunity for personal growth and that it gives him or her the ability to develop important learning skills.

On the other hand, the program has many problems, according to the report. "...staffing shortages, space, scheduling and communication problems plague the system," it said. "The interdependent effects of such problems can minimize the effectiveness of the individual student's program. The lack of time to do a job well is an overwhelming concern of the staff."

According to Tilghman, one of the key points coming from the report was the physical setting of the classes. "Some are inadequate. We're hoping that as the school system reorganizes, the best possible teaching spaces for 766 programs will be made available," she said. The report said there are ventilation, heat and lighting problems in the classrooms, and their locations are often unsatisfactory.

Besides the final report, the study group put together a plan to implement their recommendations.

"Implementation has already begun, and it will continue throughout the next year," Tilghman said.

Among the recommendations the School Committee approved were the establishment of a task force of both regular and special education teachers to help students become mainstreamed more easily. The study group also wants the administration to continue and expand its efforts to communicate with staff and parents about special education.

And it suggested the administration look at the quality of special education service provided to Andover students by the Greater Lawrence Regional Vocational Technical School. Students may opt to attend the technical school instead of Andover High School, and the 766 Study Committee wants to make sure those students are still getting a quality education.

Tilghman said Andover's special ed. staff, on the whole, is a good one. "We have a very dedicated staff. They really put a lot into it (the program) and care a great deal," she said. "That's what we really have going for us."

School Committeeman David Birnbach and a 766 parent both suggested the hiring of an outside consultant to study the program, but their motion was not approved.

For the time being, the internal study will be the only basis for improving the program. The idea of hiring a consultant hasn't been ruled out, but "for the moment, that is not an issue," Tilghman said.

The Chapter 766 Study Committee is an advisory group to the Andover School Committee. It was formed in November, 1986 to conduct an independent study of the town's special education program, which serves close to 800 students.

Study group members were volunteers and were representatives from the School Committee, 766 (special education) teachers, a representative from an outside 766 program and local parents of special needs students.

Their final report was first presented to the School Committee in October and to the administration in early December.

Counsel Forum Speaker

John W. Nields

Phillips Academy's Friday Forum lecture series welcomes John W. Nields, Jr., Class of 1960, the chief counsel on the Congressional Select Committee for last summer's Iran-Contra investigation, on Friday, Jan. 22. He will speak in Kemper Auditorium at 8 p.m. The public is welcome free of charge.

Nields is a partner at the Washington law firm of Howrey & Simon. He took leave from his practice, in which he handles criminal and commercial litigation, to serve as lead questioner of those who appeared before the Congressional Select Committee in the inquiry of the Iran-Contra affair.

Nields received a B.A. from Yale and an L.L.B. from the University of Pennsylvania Law School in 1967. He has served as assistant U.S. attorney for the Southern District of New York, senior law clerk to Supreme Court Associate Justice Byron White, chief counsel for the Korean influence investigation on Capitol Hill and special counsel to the U.S. Department of Justice.

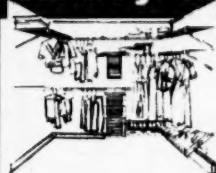

Father's Night Observed

The annual Father's Night was held in November at West Parish Nursery School, Reservation Road. The children invited fathers, grandfathers and uncles to the school for an evening of entertainment and refreshments. The children sang songs and involved the men in crafting a haunted house.

The children had their Christmas party on the last day of school in December. The party's theme was "stories" where the children delighted the audience with nursery rhymes and sang Christmas songs. The highlight of the morning was a visit by Santa who gave presents to each child. Refreshments were served.

Handsprings Show Invites Artisans

Organizers of Handsprings Arts and Crafts Exhibition and Sale, the large-scale spring show at Phillips Academy, Andover, have chosen Sunday, April 24, for Handsprings '88.

The Ladies Benevolent Society of Phillips Academy invites New England craftspeople to file applications for a booth by February 1 and the public to circle April 24 for the juried event, which attracts 3,500 people annually. Last year's fourth annual Handsprings offered 150 exhibitors from Connecticut, Massachusetts, Maine, New Hampshire, New York, Rhode Island and Vermont in the field house on the Andover campus.

Handsprings '88 will feature 10 percent fine arts and 90 percent quality crafts, an "international" cafe catered locally, a bake table of homemade goods, door prizes and occasional music by Phillips Academy student groups.

Phillips Academy's Ladies Benevolent Society, one of the oldest women's groups in the country, is sponsoring the show for the benefit of Neighbors in Need, a foster care program in Lawrence, the Greater Lawrence Family Health Center

Everything must be the artisan's own work and handcrafted; no dealers may exhibit at Handsprings. A jury will screen applications on the basis of photographs or slides submitted in advance. To obtain applications, send a postcard to Judy Hamilton, Phillips Academy, Andover, MA 01810. Applications must be postmarked no later than February 1.

Annual Overseers Meeting

The Andover Conservation Commission held its 1988 annual overseers meeting on Thursday, Jan. 14. Eighteen overseers representing more than half of Andover's conservation land parcels braved the cold to attend. Overseers and conservation commission members laid plans for the conservancy of some 1,293 acres of public land and exchanged views in the course of the hour-and-a-half session. High on the list of priorities established by the forum was better enforcement of the town's regulations for use of public open land. Chief of Police James Johnson offered expert guidance in reporting the misuse of conservation land. Improved management of the existing parcels will be the focus of the group's efforts in 1988.

Winter Classes Underway

The Department of Community Services winter program begins Monday, Jan. 25. Registration for classes and programs with open enrollment is continuing at the Town Offices

Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. until classes fill. Program booklets may be picked up at the Town Offices on Bartlet Street or Memorial Hall Library.

After-School Activity Available

"Something For Everyone," an additional after-school opportunity, began Wednesday, Jan. 20, and will continue until April 1 on Monday and Wednesday from 2:15 p.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Judith Palmer will sponsor opportunities for students to develop skits, novelty entertainment such as juggling, magic, harmonica playing, comedy, etc. Students who would like to participate in vocal music, solos, "West Junior High 13," instrumental solos, small instrumental groups or dancing are invited to participate. The afternoons will provide opportunities for every type of entertainment which students might like to participate in at West Junior High School.

This extra-curricular activity is open to all students of West Junior High School.

This opportunity for students to perform is in preparation for the upcoming "Cabaret," Spring Open House and assemblies scheduled between now and the end of the school year.

Rep. Tucker At Library January 30

Representative Susan Tucker will hold open office hours Saturday, Jan. 30, from 10 a.m. to noon in Memorial Hall Library.

Ski Tour Sunday

Like to cross country ski?

The Andover Village Improvement Society and the Andover Committee of the Appalachian Mountain Club are co-sponsoring the annual Rafton Reservation ski tour Sunday, Jan. 24.

Martial Arts Convention Set

The 1988 Martial Arts Convention will be held at the Sheraton Rolling Green Inn and Conference Center in Andover January 30 and 31.

Master Richard Byrne, the events' coordinator and fifth Dan black belt in Tang Soo Do (Korean karate), has gathered Boston area's finest martial arts talent in several styles. Byrne, master instructor for the Tang Soo Do class at the Andover-North Andover YMCA, is noted for his organizational abilities. He was head of the martial arts division of the President's Sports Fitness Festival in 1983 and has been elected to undertake this task, the first of its kind in the area. Byrne is assisted by Penny Mitchell, chief instructor of the Andover YMCA Tan Soo Do class, resident of Andover and graduate of Andover High School, who will undertake publicity and hospitality responsibilities.

The conventioners will have an opportunity to share and exchange a variety of techniques and philosophies. The one-hour seminars will be presented by Master and black belt instructors for Korean styles of Tang Soo Do and Tae Kwon Do, the Chinese arts of Chin Na, Kenpo and Chi Kung and the Japanese styles of Aiki Ju Jitsu, Judo, Ju Jitsu and Kamishin karate. Each segment will offer concepts and techniques that will benefit any martial artist, from beginning white belt to advanced black belt. Byrne states, "It has been a long-time, personal goal to offer the martial arts community a chance to come together in a non-competitive atmosphere and share knowledge and experience which is sure to be at hand at such an impressive gathering of martial arts experts. Myself and all participating instructors feel certain that this weekend will be enormously rewarding."

Historical Society To Offer Courses For 'Head And Hand'

By Virginia Lopez Begg

The Andover Historical Society is offering winter courses "for head and hand."

The society will hold the second in its ongoing series of symposiums centered on Andover in the first half of the 19th century on Saturday, Jan. 23. The topic of the all-day event is the Industrial Revolution in the Merrimack Valley and its dramatic impact on life here during 1800-1850. The symposium's fee includes lunch. Snow date is Saturday, Jan. 30.

After coffee at 9 a.m., Dr. Paul Hudon, associate curator of pre-industrial technology at the Museum of Textile History, will speak on the technological changes brought by industrialization. After lunch Dr. Clarisse Poirier, professor of history at Merrimack College, will talk about the social effects of the Industrial Revolution. Each presentation will be amplified by a panel discussion, an essential part of the exchange of ideas at the symposium. The panels will discuss the interpretation of the lecturer's topic and the use of furnishings and objects to create the historic environment of the topic. Representatives from Lawrence Heritage State Park and the Andover Historical Society will serve on the panels. "New Ways of Thinking: Religion and Sex Roles," the next symposium, will be held March 3.

The Andover Historical Society is again offering its popular course on traditional woodworking, beginning February 13. The individualized instruction is geared to novice and amateur. Students will have access to more than 400 antique tools as well as instructor John Ross' extensive collection of books about traditional woodworking.

Ross, a North Bennett Street graduate with 20 years of teaching experience, will discuss tool sharpening and reconditioning, marking and layout, traditional joinery and modern applications. He encourages students to bring their own tools and projects for assistance. Classes will take place in the Andover Historical Society's replica 19th-century shop in the Barn Museum behind the Amos Blanchard House on Main Street and will be held for four Saturdays from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

The Andover Historical Society, accredited by the American Association of Museums, is a non-profit, educational institution open to members and the public. For information on open hours, exhibitions, tours, special events and membership, call the society office between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Graduates

Airman Eric S. Lohrey, son of Gustav F. Lohrey, 24 Royal Crest Drive, North Andover, and Barbara A. Lohrey of Wakefield, has graduated from the aircraft armament systems specialist course at Lowry Air Force Base, Colo.

The 13-week course provides instruction for students to load nuclear and non-nuclear munitions, explosives and propellant devices on aircraft.

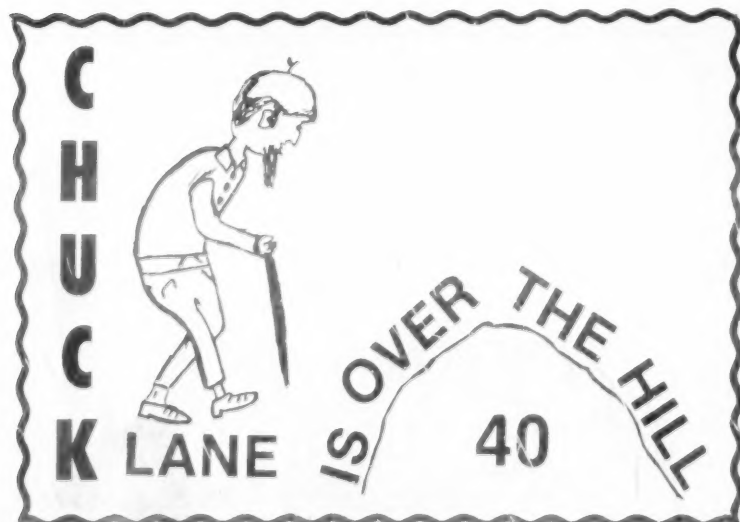

Students were also instructed to maintain, install, modify and repair aircraft bombs and rockets.

Lohrey is a 1987 graduate of Wakefield Memorial High School.

Course

North Shore Community College's Division of Continuing Education and Community Services, Lynn Campus, will run four sections of the mandatory 15-hour Massachusetts Electrical Code Update for licensed electricians beginning January 25.

For registration and other information for January and March sections, call the division of continuing education office.

Honors

Mark Gilbert, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Gary Gilbert of North Andover, has received honor roll status in the first semester at Tilton School.

Earning an 80 average or better, honor roll recipients represent the top 25 percent of their class.

Tilton School is a coeducational, independent, secondary school with 245 students and 45 faculty. Located in the foothills of the White Mountains, the school offers a college preparatory program for high school-aged youngsters.

DEPARTMENT OF COMMUNITY SERVICES AND THE PSYCHOLOGICAL CENTER KICK-OFF LIVELY AND INFORMATIVE SERIES

The first workshop in the series, Apathy or Overload? Living Effectively in Andover in the 80's and 90's, will be held at West Elementary School on Monday, Jan. 25, from 7:00 to 8:30 p.m.

The workshop, entitled Hardiness: Building Strong, High Self-Esteem Families, will be led by Joseph Cotton, Executive Director of The Psychological Center.

Highlights of the presentation are: the notion of hardiness; the building of self esteem; and the development of enduring psychological strength in ourselves and our children.

The workshop is being presented as a community service and is free of charge. Register at the Department of Community Services or at the door on the evening of the workshop.

Arts Council Awards Funds

The Andover Arts Lottery Council announces the following grants have been awarded for the January 1988 funding cycle through certification by the Massachusetts Arts Lottery Council: $150 to Mary Bailey to support an arts and crafts workshop for low income children; $200 to the New England Sculptors Association to support the publication of a paperback guide entitled "Public Art in Greater Boston;" $345 to the Shawsheen P.T.O. to support production of "Ugly Duckling" and $345 to support a production of "Young Audiences;" $500 to the Merrimack Valley Philharmonic Society to support the expansion of concert series; $500 to the Sanborn P.T.O. to support enrichment committee's efforts to develop application of performing arts; $400 to the Arnold Dance Foundation to help promote Dance Week in Andover; $300 to the Andover Housing Authority to help support fine art instruction for senior citizens; $300 to the Greater Merrimack Valley Chorale to help support concerts in Andover; $600 to the West Elementary Cultural Program to support cultural programs at West Elementary School; and $200 to Patricia Smith to support attendance of Pike School students at "The Diary of Anne Frank" through the Performing Arts Student Series fund.

The Massachusetts Arts Lottery Council will again distribute monies in July in its 11th funding cycle to local arts councils in the state. The Andover Arts Lottery Council is accepting applications for this funding.

Deadline for application submission is March 31.

Applications will be reviewed by the council on April 6. This program, supported in part by the Massachusetts Arts Lottery and administered by local councils, is aimed to encourage and support the promotion of the arts in Massachusetts. For further information regarding application procedures, contact Selma Flieder at the Department of Community Services.

Students Earn High Honors

Eric Tentarelli

Sharon Tentarelli

Four local students were among 20 students at Phillips Academy, less than 2 percent of the student body, who ended the fall trimester with an average grade of 6 (A-plus).

The four were Stephanie Kip, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Kip, Phillips Academy; Marisa Murtagh, daughter of Thomas and Joan Murtagh, Blueberry Circle; Sharon and Eric Tentarelli, daughter and son of Kenneth and Elizabeth Tentarelli, College Circle.

Murtagh, an 11th grader, has maintained a 6 average for seven consecutive terms and is active in junior varsity soccer, squash and tennis. She is an admission office tourguide and a Graham House tutor. Murtagh attended Doherty Junior High School.

Miss Tentarelli, in her second year, is active in the math club. Eric, in his first year, is also involved in the math club and also the orchestra. They attended The Pike School.

Wins Contest

Lorraine M. Corcoran, a senior at Andover High School, won the "National Energy Awareness Essay Contest."

She will be awarded a $500 scholarship to the college of her choice at the time of her graduation from high school.

All high school seniors who planned to attend college were eligible to compete in the New England Electric System companies' essay contest in observance of National Energy Awareness Month - October.

New England Electric sponsored the contest to promote enhanced awareness of the importance of energy and the need to continue to contribute to energy security through conservation, energy efficiency, advancement of technology, and support for a strong domestic energy industry.

Luncheon

A homemade soup/chowder and salad bar luncheon will be held Sunday, Jan. 31, at St. Matthew's Lodge, A.F.&A.M., 7 High St., Andover, from noon to 1:30 p.m. Tickets may be purchased at the door. The public is welcome. The menu will include homemade chicken soup or corn chowder, make-your-own salad, Syrian bread, dessert and beverage.

Elected

M. Zita Ezpeleta, a literature concentrator, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Mariano Ezpeleta of Andover, has been elected to the Iota Chapter of Phi Beta Kappa at Radcliffe College where she is a senior.

Doherty Junior High School Commemorates King's Birthday

Doherty Junior High School commemorated the birthday of Martin Luther King last week with a special program hosted by students from Mr. Clark's eighth grade history class. Richard Yost gave a biographical sketch of Dr. King. Kim Prentiss followed with a history of the holiday celebrating his birthday and Jamie Himer closed the observance with excerpts from King's "I Have a Dream" speech.

BABY TALK

by Jack Resnick

It really is amazing, but a baby begins to see as soon as he/she is born. So, right away you as a parent can help your baby enjoy looking at the world around him/her. For instance, bring interesting objects close enough for the baby to see clearly. Handle your baby in ways that help him/her to be alert and interested in you and the objects that are nearby. Carry your baby to objects that he or she can't see well without your help, like interesting wallpaper or flowers in the garden. Very important - show your pleasure when your baby looks at objects carefully, and talk to him/her about the things he/she looks at.

There is a wonderful selection of baby furniture at TINY TOTLAND. We have everything from pacifiers to strollers. Over 80 cribs on display. Wall decor and lamps. Babies toys for all ages... everything from "heaven to seven". Ask about our free lay-away plan. Delivery service. Stop in soon at TINY TOTLAND, 1111 Elm St., Manchester, N.H. "Where Quality Costs You Less."

Exploration Program At Wellesley

A special meeting for boys and girls from Andover, ages 12-14 and 15-17, their parents and friends has been scheduled for Sunday, Feb. 7, from 2 p.m. to 3 p.m. at Wellesley College, Pendleton 112 East, to acquaint them with the two separate exploration summer programs which will be held on the Wellesley College campus this summer.

Exploration, a non-profit, enrichment program for junior high and high school students offers day and residential programs. Both programs will be discussed. It is recommended that all interested day students come to hear about the special features of Exploration designed for them; transportation is available from most Greater Boston communities, twice-weekly overnight arrangement allows day students greater access to special evening events and field trips and a Midday Lounge during the daily lunch break has special activities.

Students Get Ready For Exams

Grade Reorganization Discussed

By Elaine Carras

Andover High School students will be taking their annual mid-year exams Jan. 26, 27 and 28. These tests are based on information students have used and learned during the first and second terms.

Students will be on a special schedule during these days:

Tuesday, Jan. 26

8-9:30 a.m. Period 6 Exam
9:40-11:10 a.m. Period 1 Exam
11:40 a.m.-1:10 p.m. Period 4 Exam

Wednesday, Jan. 27

8-9:30 a.m. Period 7 Exam
9:40-11:10 a.m. Period 2 Exam
11:40 a.m.-1:10 p.m. Period 5 Exam

Thursday, Jan. 28

8-9:30 a.m. Period 8 Exam
9:40-11:10 a.m. Period 3 Exam
11:40-1:10 p.m. Make-up exams

Students are definitely nervous about their exams, but their teachers say there is no cause for alarm.

"Mid-terms synthesize information students have learned," said Bill Becker, head of the English department. He said if a student has been doing well all along, he or she should have no problem passing exams.

Are the students prepared?

"To tell you the truth," one junior said, "I usually study the weekend before the tests."

According to a senior, "Two weeks before the exams, I take two hours each night and study what I can."

Members of the administration said students should strive for nothing less than academic excellence. This is one challenge Andover High students will be prepared for.

Carras is an Andover High student.

More than 2 billion pencils are manufactured each year in the United States.

The Parent Advisory Council of Doherty Junior High School shelved their regularly-scheduled agenda last week and opened the meeting to consider the impact of the proposed grade reorganization. Despite the freezing temperature, there was an outstanding turnout of parents who took the opportunity to gain information about the change from a junior high to a middle school.

Parent Advisory Council President Irene Blank thanked the parents for the large turnout and turned the proceedings over to Dr. Richard McGrail, principal of Doherty, who gave a brief overview of the middle school concept and its history in Andover.

Opening the meeting to questions from the floor, McGrail spent the remainder of the evening responding to parental concerns about the transition period. Many questions were raised about this year's eighth grade class, which could head to the high school as early as next fall.

Inuit Games

A collection of Inuit Art, showing one culture's fascination with game playing, is featured through February 26 in Northern Essex Community College's Bentley Library Gallery in Haverhill.

The artists, most of whom have spent their lives living the traditional nomadic life, are Inuit people from the Alaskan and Canadian Arctic.

Bone, stone and antler are some of the materials used in the carvings and sculptures.

The gallery is open Sundays from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

McGrail could not give a definite timetable for the transition, since the School Committee had not yet voted on when the changeover might take place. However, the meeting clarified many aspects of the transition and gave parents the chance to raise important issues.

Bilger Awarded Scholarship

Bonnie Bilger of Andover has been awarded the Two/Ten Charity Trust Scholarship by the Two/Ten Scholarship Program. Bonnie is attending Babson College. This highly competitive program, open to students planning to attend a college, vocational/technical school or nursing program, has been designed to provide supplemental assistance for advanced educations.

The Two/Ten Scholarship Program, established in 1969, has been awarding academic scholarships to deserving young students whose parents are affiliated with the footwear or allied footwear industries. Two/Ten has awarded close to $300,000 in the current academic year and is helping more than 300 sons and daughters of shoe industry employees. All Two/Ten scholarships are renewable for four years.

Founded at 210 Lincoln St. in the historic shoe and leather district of Boston, the Two/Ten Foundation was originally a response to the suffering of shoepeople during the great Depression. Approximately 10,000 industry members have joined the organization to participate in programs that are geared towards helping fellow shoepeople.

Scholarship applications and information may be obtained by writing to the Two/Ten Foundation, 56 Main St., Watertown, MA 02172.

Mandated Recycling Possible

By Virginia Cole

There will undoubtedly be an article in the upcoming Town Meeting Warrant authorizing the selectmen to mandate recycling. It has not yet been decided exactly what will be mandated first; maybe newspapers. Glass might come next and then, we hope by spring, we can have grass clippings and leaves removed from the waste stream. Watch for the town warrant and come to town meeting.

You who recycled saved the town $1182.60 in December. We saved $1116.90 in December 1986, so we are inching up the scale.

The glass bin will be at the usual place in the parking lot by the Town Office Building from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. the third Saturday of the month. Clean out all those party bottles and meet us there.

If you wonder why your trash was picked up late last week, it was because of the Christmas trees which added to the load and which don't compress in the packer. That means extra trips to the incinerator and, therefore, late trash pickups.

Duke Ellington Orchestra To Appear

The 17-piece Duke Ellington Orchestra, under the direction of Mercer Ellington, will perform at Boston Symphony Hall Saturday, Feb. 6, in a benefit performance for the Dana McLean Greeley Foundation for Peace and Justice. A combination of music from three Sacred Concerts will be presented with the renowned gospel vocalist and Grammy-award winner Al Green, soloist Anita Moore and narrators Joanne Woodward, Paul Newman, Coretta Scott King, Andrew Young and Amy Carter.

The Greeley Foundation was established in 1986 in honor of Dana McLean Greeley, former president of the Unitarian Universalist Association and world leader for peace and justice, to pursue new and dynamic ways of making the world more peaceful.

A benefactors and patrons dinner with the honored guests will precede the concert. A champagne reception will be held following the concert for the benefactors, patrons and sponsors.

Why Andover Bank is going to miss Pioneer Bank.

For many years, our neighbors at Pioneer Bank gave us some very stiff competition. Which is precisely why we at Andover Bank are dismayed at the turn of events which has caused the departure of Pioneer from the local banking scene.

Business thrives on competition. When businesses compete, they must constantly improve by solving new problems, filling new needs, or building new dreams. We hope that all our banking neighbors—old and new—will continue to provide the kind of competition that has made Andover Bank a leader in this community.

For Pioneer Bank customers who may have questions regarding the future of your banking needs, please feel free to talk to any Andover Bank customer representative, by phone or in person, at any of our convenient offices.

Mozart Concert At Academy

The music department of Phillips Academy will present a "Friends of Mozart" concert in celebration of the birthday of Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart (January 27, 1756) on Friday, Jan. 29, at 7:30 p.m. in Cochran Chapel on the academy campus.

This "Concert of Concerti" will feature soloists and musicians from the Phillips Academy student body, alumni and Brooks School.

The program will include the Haydn Trumpet Concerto in Eb Major, Brian Bahr, class of '88, soloist; the Haydn Cello Concerto in C Major, Richard Shin, class of '90, soloist; Beethoven's Romance in F Major, Namish Patel, class of '91, Brooks School, soloist; Beethoven's Triple Concerto in C Major for Violin, Cello and Piano, Arthur White, class of '90, violin soloist, Thomas Lloyd, class of '79, cello soloist, and Marie Eguro, class of '90, piano soloist.

A "Concert of Concerti" featuring solists from the Phillips Academy faculty and professionals from the Greater Merrimack Valley area will be held Sunday, Jan. 31, at 3 p.m.

This "Mostly Mozart" program will include arias from Così Fan Tutte, K.588, Beda Polanco and Allen Combs, soloists; Concerto No. 3 for Violin in G Major, Gerald Itzkoff, soloist; Concerto, Opus 30 for Guitar by Mauro Giuliani, Peter Lorenzo, soloist; Church Sonata for Organ and Strings, Carolyn Skelton, soloist; Concerto No. 17, K.453 for Piano, Christopher Walter, soloist.

Itzkoff, in addition to his teaching at the academy, is the principal second violinist of the New Hampshire Symphony and a participant in the summer Monadnock Music Festival. Lorenzo, associated with the academy for more than a decade, has performed as guitar soloist throughout the United States and Europe, most recently in Cordoba, Spain. Skelton, a well known organ recitalist and teacher, is the academy organist. Walter, a long-time faculty member of the music department, has performed as soloist and accompanist throughout the United States, Canada and Europe, having great expertise in piano and vocal literature.

The Andover Chamber Orchestra, under the direction of William Thomas, chairman of the music department, is comprised of professional musicians and teachers from the Greater Merrimack Valley area.

There is no charge for admission. The public is invited to join in the continued celebration of Mozart's birthday after the Sunday concert with a reception in Cochran Chapel's Baldwin Cloister.

Exhibit

The first major international loan show in more than 35 years to review the full achievement of 17th-century Dutch landscape painting will open at the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, February 3.

Presenting 100 masterpieces by more than 40 artists, the exhibition will include all of the key figures, including Hendrick Avercamp, Jan van Goyen, Rembrandt, Jacob van Ruisdael, Aelbert Cuyp and Meindert Hobbema, as well as important artists of lesser renown such as Cornelis Vroom and Pieter de Molijn.

"Masters of 17th Century Dutch Landscape Painting" has been organized by the Rijksmuseum, Amsterdam, and the Museum of Fine Arts, Boston, in collaboration with the Philadelphia Museum of Art and will remain on view through May 1.

Program Aimed At New Area Code

New England Telephone's intensive informational program about Massachusetts' new area code—508—will continue in January with an informational package in all Massachusetts customers' bills.

A map illustrating the boundaries of the new 508 area code, scheduled to take effect in eastern Massachusetts July 16, will be enclosed with the January and February bills sent to the company's nearly three million business and residential customers in the Bay State.

The information will include specific instructions about new dialing patterns that the new code will require. The bill insert will also contain information about how calling rates or optional calling plans will be unaffected by the new area code.

Also included will be a list of all Massachusetts cities and towns in the 413, 508 and 617 area codes.

"Customers' understanding of the effects of the new area code is New England Telephone's first priority," said David Ravanesi, public relations manager.

"We are distributing this map and information to clarify changes that will result from the new area code and to detail exactly what cities and towns fall within the new area code."

Ravanesi pointed out that current optional calling plans, such as Bay State East and Bay State West, and rates in general will not be affected by the new area code.

New England Telephone announced in May 1986 that the new area code would be introduced in 1988 to give customers ample time to prepare for the change.

The new area code is being introduced in eastern Massachusetts because New England Telephone is running out of telephone numbers in the region. Having a second area code will give the company more telephone numbers to assign to customers. Western Massachusetts is covered by the 413 area code, which will not change.

Once the new area code is implemented, customers outside 508 calling someone in the new 508 region will have to dial 1, the new area code and the seven-digit telephone number.

However, Ravanesi stressed that the introduction of 508 will not create a new toll-calling boundary. Telephone calls that are not long distance calls today will not be long distance calls in the future, even if a customer has to dial 1 and the new area code to cross the new area code boundary.

After July, most of Greater Boston will retain the 617 code while eastern Massachusetts areas north, west and south of Greater Boston will receive the new 508 designation.

Over the past several years, there have been several new area codes introduced in the United States, including New York City, San Diego, Los Angeles and Houston.

Open Space Workshops Set

The Town of North Andover and the Merrimack Valley Planning Commission are working with the Massachusetts Executive Office of Communities and Development to hold two workshops on how to preserve open space and environmentally sensitive areas at Merrimack College in Gildea Hall in North Andover from 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. The workshops will help communities utilize public open space acquisition programs and regulatory techniques to protect prime open space and natural resources in the face of the region's rapid growth and development.

The first workshop on Saturday, Jan. 21, will acquaint local officials and citizens with open space acquisition programs, particularly those associated with the recently approved $300 million Open Space Bond issue. Speakers from several Massachusetts open space programs will provide information on the types of open space that can be acquired and how to apply for grants.

The second workshop on Saturday, Feb. 20, will focus on land use and regulatory techniques that communities can use to preserve and protect open space. The effect of recent Supreme Court decisions on regulatory techniques will be highlighted. North Andover will share its experience with farmland preservation and the protection of its municipal water supply.

The public is invited at no charge.

HEADACHES? NECK PAIN? BACK PAIN?

The simplest movement could have pinched one of the 34 nerves running through these vertebrae. It doesn't take a hard force or an audible snap to pinch a nerve. It doesn't even have to cause pain at the time of injury. It does take just 15 minutes to determine if chiropractic treatment can relieve your back pain, headache, or neck pain. I'll take the time, will you?

Piano DCS Top Class

Piano keyboard lessons (all ages), Rollerskating (K-3), Karate (7-14), Spanish Conversation, And-over Stencilled Cheese Box Workshop and Cross Country Skiing (K-2) were the most popular classes at last week's DCS winter registration. Well over 550 people braved the frigid temperatures to sign up for activities. Two-year DCS veteran, Marianne O'Leary, in charge of the registration rewriting process at the evening registration, was heard to say that her crew of rewriters actually wore down their pencils a few times. One individual signed up to take 15 classes (mostly one-time workshops).

Registration is continuing at the DCS office during regular office hours Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Mail registrations are also accepted. Although most of the programs begin the week of January 25, many have later starting dates. Consult the Community Services winter/spring program booklet which was mailed to each household in December. Additional booklets are available at the DCS located in the Town Offices and Memorial Hall Library.

Classes that have registration openings include Origami, Securities and Investments, Bonsai Workshop, Stained Glass, CPR and Standard First Aid, Fly Tying, Poetry, Typing (beginning and intermediate levels), Yoga-Intermediate, G.E.D. High School Equivalency (Social Studies Unit), Painting (beginning and intermediate levels), Drawing, Belly Dancing, Lite for Life (nutrition), Acoustic Guitar, Greek Conversation, Song Writing, Leathercraft, Ballroom Dancing, Easy Shape-up, Accelerated Shape-up, Exercises for Expectant Mothers, Parent/Toddler Rollerskating, Rollerskating (grade 4-9), Ballet/Baton, Parent Toddler Fun and Fitness, Acrobise (ages 4-6), Gymnastics (ages 3-4), Baseball Clinic, Cross Country Skiing (grades 3-6) and Cheerleading.

Stagecoaches began to run over colonial roads during the time of George Washington.

Stroke Club To Meet Thursday

The monthly meeting of the Greater Lawrence Easter Seal Stroke club will be held Thursday, Jan. 21, at the North Andover Senior Citizen Center, 120R Main St., North Andover, at 2 p.m.

Judy Kong, R.N. will discuss stress and stress management, followed by an exercise in relaxation with the aid of a cassette tape. Families and friends are always welcome. Refreshments are served following the program.

Easter Seal stroke clubs are comprised of people who have had a stroke, their families and friends. Each club is designed to offer peer group support and is the best resource for developing a better understanding of a member's ability.

Members also have the support of other Easter Seal Services, including Easter Seal Home Health Care which offers the full spectrum of home care services, including nursing, physical, speech and occupational therapy and home health aides.

For more information about Easter Seal stroke clubs or other services, contact the northeast regional office, 5 Ballard Way, Lawrence.

Additional Troopers

Allan R. McKinnon, chairman of the Massachusetts Turnpike Authority, announced three sergeants and six troopers have been added to Troop E of the Massachusetts State Police with particular emphasis on strengthening the radar and commercial vehicle enforcement teams.

The agency intends to continue to make truck safety a top priority. The turnpike authority will enforce all overweight and traffic violations by truck operators.

McKinnon said, "The relatively small percentage of companies and drivers who operate unsafe and overloaded trucks will have to change their methods of operation or suffer the consequences. We will have little sympathy for those companies and drivers who operate with little regard for their own safety and the safety of other turnpike patrons."

Handsprings Seeking Caterers

Handsprings, the arts and crafts show at Phillips Academy on Sunday, April 24, invites applications from local caterers.

The Ladies Benevolent Society, sponsors of the 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. exhibition and sale, seeks caterers for a high quality hot and cold luncheon featuring an international cuisine for the event, which attracts 3,500 people annually.

"We are looking for nutritious foods of the soup and finger food variety that will appeal to adults, children, teenagers and vegetarians," said Elaine Bailey, food coordinator. "Handsprings is not interested in fast foods but in creative and delicious food to match the quality of our juried arts and crafts." Bailey says that the Andover Community Childcare will provide beverages and the Ladies Benevolent Society has a bake table.

Applicants should send a priced menu and references to Mrs. Elaine Bailey, Phillips Academy, Andover, by February 1.

To Head Honeywell Division

Honeywell has named Gerald C. Vandevoort vice president and general manager of its Air Transport Systems Division. He replaces John Dewane who was named to head Honeywell's new Military Avionics Systems Group. Vandevoort will report to Dr. D. Larry Moore, group vice president of Honeywell's Sperry Commercial Flight Systems Group.

Vandevoort was vice president and general manager of Honeywell's Electro-Optics Division at Lexington for four years. He joined Honeywell in 1962 as a production engineer and has served in a series of increasingly responsible positions in engineering, production operations and program management during his Honeywell career.

Vandevoort was promoted to director of offshore and manufacturing operations for the Marine Systems Division in Seattle in 1980. A year later, he joined Military Avionics Division in Minneapolis as associate director of operations and location manager and, in 1983, was promoted to director of production and logistics.

Vandevoort earned a bachelor's degree in electrical engineering from the University of Iowa in 1962. He and his wife, Joan, live in Andover. They will soon relocate to Phoenix.

By pre-qualifying for your new car loan at Wakefield Savings Bank before you start shopping, you can go into any car dealer in a better position to negotiate. While many dealers now offer low-interest financing, that usually means you can't negotiate the sale price—which could cost you money in the long run.

Right now, Wakefield Savings is offering 48-month new car loans at only 9½%. So if you're thinking new car, stop in and see us before you start shopping. Otherwise, that little white convertible you're eyeing could leave you in the red.

Watershed Council Joins Adopt-A-Stream Program

The Merrimack River Watershed Council, Inc., at a board of directors meeting on Wednesday, Jan. 14, agreed to join the Massachusetts Department of Fisheries, Wildlife and Environmental Law Enforcement's (DFWELE) Adopt-a-Stream Program, becoming one of the largest organizations to join the program since its inception last year.

Under the agreement, the watershed council, which has worked for years to restore the Merrimack from one of the country's ten most polluted rivers into a respectable waterway, agrees to continue support of programs designed to improve the quality of the river and its watershed lands.

The DFWELE agrees to work for corridor conservation along the river, encourage protection of river ecosystems and wildlife habitats in conjunction with passive recreational uses of the river and promote and improve fishing and public access opportunities along the river.

The adopt-a-stream program, part of the department's riverways program, was established in March 1987 to help local residents in their efforts to improve water quality, protect lands along rivers and streams and improve habitat for wildlife and fish in river corridors.

The program accomplishes these goals by providing watershed protection groups with tips on obtaining resources and educating the public, giving technical assistance to determine the proper steps in promoting water quality and habitat improvement, by purchasing lands, getting easements, monitoring pollution problems and advising groups on the best methods of getting people, business and local governments to work together for environmental improvements in the watershed region.

Three Return Papers

With less than a month before the filing deadline for several elected school and town jobs, only three Andover citizens have turned in nomination papers.

So far, incumbent selectman Gail Ralson, challenger Jim Barenboim and incumbent moderator James Doherty have accumulated the required 93 signatures and returned them to town hall, said Town Clerk Elden R. Salter.

The deadline for completed forms, which must include the signatures of 93 registered voters on a petition, is Feb. 15, said Salter.

Nomination papers may be acquired at the town clerk's office.

Although few have returned forms, several have been taken out.

In addition to Doherty, local resident John Doyle has acquired papers to run for moderator.

Edward L. Martin and Lawrence S. Spiegel have taken out papers to run for the three-year terms available on the Board of Selectmen.

For school committee, incumbent David Birnbach and challenger John Willard have not returned papers as yet.

One candidate each for the Greater Lawrence Regional Vocational School board and the Andover Housing Authority, Gerald Grasso and Mary Jane Powell, respectively, have taken out papers.

Denmark is said to have used the same national flag, a white cross on a red background, for more than 750 years.

For Those Of Us Who Are Older

By Dorothy M. Winn

Winter is a time of many illnesses and injuries. Cold, icy weather can bring about heart attacks, frostbite and asthma, as well as broken bones due to falls. While staying in a cold place for a long time can harm anyone, it is particularly risky for older people. Even mildly cold temperatures of 60°F to 65°F can trigger accidental hypothermia, a drop in deep body temperature that can be deadly if not detected promptly and treated properly. Some diseases and certain drugs can make a person more likely to have this condition. A person is especially vulnerable to accidental hypothermia if he or she lives alone or is isolated, without a phone to reach help in case of accident or illness, does not shiver or react to cold normally, is ill or unable to move around well, is taking drugs that keep the body from regulating temperature normally. Such drugs include phenothiazines, which are commonly used to treat anxiety, depression, nausea and other conditions.

Accidental hypothermia, however, may occur in anyone who is exposed to severe cold without enough protection. Some older people can develop accidental hypothermia after exposure to relatively mild cold. All older people can and should take measures to prevent hypothermia which can be fatal. Dressing warmly during the day, eating enough food and staying as active as possible are good ways to maintain body heat. Hypothermia may start during sleep, so special care should be paid to keeping warm in bed by wearing enough clothing and using blankets.

If possible, older persons should try not to be alone for very long or should ask friends or neighbors to look in on them once or twice a day, particularly in severe cold.

For more information on hypothermia, call the Andover Council on Aging at 470-3830 and ask for the hypothermia brochure to be sent to you. An even better way to get this information would be to come to the senior center which will keep you active, put you with people and where you can get a hot nutritious meal in a warm setting.

There is no need for any of Andover's older residents to be cold. If your house or apartment is too cold during the day, get to the senior center. If you don't drive, call and we can develop acciden-your cold house to a warm place. If the heat goes out in the middle of the night and you are cold, call the police department and emergency shelter will be provided. The Council on Aging can provide fuel assistance and will make arrangements to provide blankets and space heaters if needed. Don't sit there shivering, call us.

Class registration for the winter session at the senior center continues through Friday, Jan. 22. Later registrations will be accepted on a space available basis.

If you are interested in any of the free workshops or lectures, such as "For Women Only," "For Men Only" or "Timely Topics," call to register so you will receive the list of speakers.

Performance

The University of Lowell Center for the Performing and Visual Arts will present a performance by Garth Fagan's Bucket Dance

Theatre on Sunday, Jan. 31, at 3 p.m. in Durgin Hall on the university's South Campus, corner of

When you register you are also notified of any schedule changes.

The third annual Senior Prom is scheduled for Wednesday, May 4, at the Sheraton Rolling Green. Tickets will be available to Andover senior citizens for a price far below the actual cost for this gala event. The Council on Aging has scheduled a major fundraiser to offset costs.

You can "Step into Spring" in style on Sunday, March 13, at a fashion show and luncheon at the Andover Marriott. Tickets are on sale for $25. Proceeds will benefit a variety of programs for Andover's older residents. Stylish women (and men) of all ages won't want to miss this special fundraiser. Call the Council on Aging for details.

Moon Sale

The Museum of Science in Boston is selling real estate on the moon and all the stars in the galaxy. This innovative campaign is a fund-raising effort in which moon craters, moon seas and individual stars are offered.

A moon-site or star owner will receive a deed of ownership and a map with instructions for locating his/her parcel of land. Purchases are tax deductible contributions which will help the Museum of Science fund its exhibits and education programs.

Cookie Sale To Begin

Friday, Jan. 22, kicks off the annual Girl Scout Cookie Sale. Fund Development Director Marci Miller expects more than 8,000 girls to participate.

Echo, a chocolate sandwich cookie with a cream center, is replacing the Pecan Shortee. Other varieties include the old-fashioned Chocolate Chunks, oatmeal and peanut butter Do-Si-Dos, caramel Samoas, peanut butter Tag-a-Longs, Thin Mints and shortbread Trefoils.

The sale will end Sunday, Feb. 7.

The Girl Scout Cookie Sale enables troops to fund camping trips, community service projects and numerous activities. The sale also presents an opportunity for girls to learn poise, self-confidence and how to set and achieve goals.

Girls are trained to greet customers courteously, understand why she is selling cookies and the importance of following through on a commitment to deliver the cookies promptly.

Cookie delivery will begin the week of March 7.

Spar and Spindle Girl Scout Council serves close to 10,000 girls in 53 communities and is supported by United Ways and Funds.

Gardeners Hear Lecture

The January meeting of the Four Seasons Garden Club was held at the home of Barbara Calnan. Co-hostesses were Sook Kim and Ursula Kurth. Kurth arranged a centerpiece of miniature cyclamen blossoms, baby's breath and seasonal greens.

Program chairmen Beth Deyo and Margaret Cronin presented Diane Butler who lectured on Evolution of a Water Garden, accompanied by slides. Butler has taken courses at Garden in the Woods and Wildflower Society of New England. Her studies have taken her to all New England states to study their flora.

Gould Named Area Coordinator

Christine M. Gould of Andover has been named area coordinator of Go-Getters for the 1988 Channel 2 Auction, the major fundraising event for Boston's nationally acclaimed Public Broadcasting Service station, WGBH. She is responsible for overseeing the volunteer efforts in Andover, Lawrence and North Andover. According to Edythe C. Baker, auction manager, "Christine is a loyal and dedicated worker. We are extremely grateful that she's a part of the auction process."

Gould is one of 50 area coordinators se-

The club will participate in the National Council of State Garden Clubs' regional project, "Backyard Habitat," gardening for wildlife around the home.

Judy Colburne, Northern District director of Garden Club Federation of Massachusetts, Inc., announced the northern district's annual meeting will be held Tuesday, March 15, at Danversport Yacht Club. Constance McCausland will present "Spring Flowers for Home Decorating."

The February meeting will be held Thursday, Feb. 11 with Ursula Kurth.

lected by the auction office to recruit and train volunteers to solicit donations for the 1988 auction. Go-getters from the 50 areas canvas more than 200 communities throughout Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Rhode Island. Volunteers attend an orientation workshop at the Crowne Plaza Hotel in Natick.

The theme for the 1988 Channel 2 Auction, which airs June 3-11, is "Join the Parade!" In its 23rd year, the event has a goal of more than $1.3 million dollars.

Variety Of Speakers At NHC

New Hampshire College will kick off the new year with a continuation of its Spectrum Speaker Series.

Prize-winning writer and futurist Jeremy Rifkin will be at the college Thursday, Jan. 28. In "Genetic Engineering: Utopia or Brave New World," Rifkin will talk about surrogate mothering and the ethical, moral and social impact of these new biological techniques of contemporary society.

Rifkin's unique perspective and social commentary has been featured on numerous television programs, including Face the Nation and William F. Buckley's Firing Line. His books include Entropy, Algeny, Who Should Play God? and Time Wars. They cover topics ranging from politics and philosophy to science.

On Feb. 18, the series takes on a lighter note as Pulitzer Prize-winning editorial cartoonist Mike Peters offers "Confessions of an Editorial Cartoonist." In his slide-illustrated lecture, Peters, whose cartoons appear regularly in Time, Newsweek and The New Republic, will explain the games politicians play.

Peters is also known as the creator of the "social and political" comic strip

"Mother Goose and Grimm," which is syndicated in more than 200 papers nationwide.

The Spectrum Speaker Series will wrap up the academic year March 24 with a visit by Dr. Marilyn Macholowitz, who will discuss "Workaholics: Living with Them, Working with Them."

Macholowitz, who received her Ph.D. in psychology from Yale University, has written about this phenomenon in her book, Workaholics. She has also contributed to such publications as The New York Times, Vogue and Cosmopolitan.

A management consultant, career counselor, author, columnist and frequent radio and television guest, Macholowitz will tell you how to cope if you are a workaholic, tell you if you have the work habits to become a workaholic and how to live with one. She promises to shed some much needed light on the gray area between success and obsession.

All three speaking engagements will begin at 12:30 in the athletic complex on the college's south campus. There is no admission charge, and the public is invited to attend.

Choral Group To Perform Benefit

The Andover Choral Society will sing the greats of the Renaissance and Baroque at the second annual Habitat for Humanity benefit concert Saturday, Jan. 30 at 8 p.m. at Christ Church, 25 Central St.

Music director George H. Redman is rehearsing the singers in Alessandro Scarlatti's Exultate Deo, Giovanni Gabrieli's Magnum Mysterium and In Ecclesiis; Beatus Vir from "Selva Morale Et Spirituale" by Claudio Monteverdi; two motets from Psalmen Davids — "Die Mit Tranen Saen," Psalm 126, and "Wie Lieblich Sind Deine Wohnungen," Psalm 84 — by Heinrich Schutz; J.S. Bach's Lobet den Herrn; and Handel's Hallelujah Chorus.

Habitat for Humanity is an international organization whose mission is to relieve the housing crisis throughout the world.

The Greater Lawrence Habitate for Humanity is a local organization dedicated to helping alleviate the housing crisis in this area, as well as to building community relations and opportunities.

Concert

The University of Lowell Center for the Performing and Visual Arts will present the St. Paul Chamber Orchestra with conductor Eduardo Mata in a performance featuring pianist Yefim Bronfman on Friday, Feb. 12, at 8 p.m. The 34-member ensemble will perform works by J.C. Bach, Mozart, Bizet and the contemporary composer, Dag Wieren.

Church News

To Celebrate Church Birth

The people of Faith Lutheran Church in Andover, Redeemer Lutheran Church in Lawrence and Triumphant Cross Lutheran Church in Salem, N.H., will join with people of ten other Lutheran congregations from the northeastern Massachusetts-Southern New Hampshire area on Sunday, Jan. 24, at 3:30 p.m. to celebrate the birth of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America. The Bishop of the New England Synod-Evangelical Lutheran Church in America, The Rev. Robert Isaksen, will be the presider and preacher at the service of Holy Communion at Faith Lutheran Church, 360 South Main St. (Route 28).

The Evangelical Lutheran Church in America was officially started on January 1, 1988, uniting about 5.3 million Lutherans in the United States. The new church headquarters are in Chicago and the synodical bishop's office is in Worcester. Although the Lutheran tradition has roots in northern Europe, principally Germany and Scandinavia, it is a church with a growing membership from all ethnic and racial backgrounds. This trend of seeking the participation of all people is a priority for the congregations of the E.L.C.A.

All are welcome to the Eucharist on Sunday. It will be a time of celebration and music and an opportunity to hear Bishop Isaksen's vision for the church's mission in New England and around the world.

Musical Worship Scheduled

Paul Heffron, a dynamic, young pianist, guitarist, singer, composer and recording artist, will lead A Service of Worship Through Music on Sunday, Jan. 24, at 10:30 a.m. at the North Andover Community Center, 33 Johnson St., in the Old Town Center.

A graduate of the Boston Conservatory of Music, Heffron has been guest pianist with the Arlington Philharmonic and Boston Conservatory Orchestras, and has appeared on national television.

He specializes in writing contemporary songs around a core of Scriptures.

The Neighborhood Alliance Church invites the public to participate in this special service, which will be followed by refreshments and informal fellowship.

For more information, call Pastor Philip Silvia.

Church To Mark Unity Week

The Ballard Vale United Church (a United Methodist and United Church of Christ congregation) will mark the Week of Prayer for Christian Unity with special prayers for the unity of the Christian Church throughout the world and offer prayers for all churches of Andover at Sunday's Service of the Word. The Rev. Gary S. Cornell will preach on "Gone Fishing," based on the call of the first disciples in Mark 1:14-20. There is a class for adults at 9:30 a.m., church school and worship at 10:30 a.m., followed by a time of fellowship and light refreshment. An orientation session and pot luck supper for parents and members of this year's youth confirmation class will be held at 5:30 p.m.

Members Needed

The Bradford-Pentucket Chorale invites persons interested in joining the group to attend the first rehearsal on Monday, Jan. 25, at 7 p.m. at the college's Denworth Hall.

Music planned this year include the Haydn "Lord Nelson Mass" and the Bach cantata "Jesu der du meine Seele."

48 YEARS OF SERVICE TO THE MERRIMACK VALLEY

OBITUARIES

Carl R. Wetterberg

Carl Robert Wetterberg, an avid sports fan who had just experienced the thrill of seeing Larry Bird play in person at Boston Garden, died Wednesday, Jan. 13, 1988, at Massachusetts General Hospital, Boston.

Mr. Wetterberg, 85 Lowell St., was 56. He and his wife, Janet, had gone to the game together.

"We hadn't seen the Celtics for 20 years. It was a fantastic game and we were so thrilled," Mrs. Wetterberg said. "We were leaving Boston Garden and he just collapsed and that was it."

Mrs. Wetterberg said her husband had quadruple bypass surgery in October and he seemed to be doing well up until then.

"Sports were a big part of our lives. Bob followed every Bruins game, the Red Sox and the Patriots," she said. "We just were avid fans."

Mrs. Wetterberg met her husband when she was in ninth grade. They played table tennis together at the Andover Guild, a recreation place for teen-agers on Brooks St., Andover, where the Knights of Columbus building is now. They went together for five years before their wedding and have been married for 33 years.

Mr. Wetterberg was employed as a foreman for the Andover Water Department for 15 years. He joined the U.S. Air Force during the Korean Conflict and served for 20 years before retiring in 1971 as a Technical Sergeant.

"He was a witty fellow. He had a terrific sense of humor. There was always something that kind of made you chuckle," said Norman Leahy, 44, who worked with Mr. Wetterberg for 15 years. "He was certainly well-liked by the guys here."

Born in Andover, Mr. Wetterberg was a 1948 graduate of Punchard High, Andover, where he excelled as a three-sport letterman in baseball, football and basketball.

Mr. Wetterberg was a life member of the Andover Baptist Church and was a member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post No. 2104 in North Andover, the American Legion and the Air Force Sergeants Association.

He is survived by his wife, Janet L. (Svenson) Wetterberg; sons, Carl R. Jr. and James C., both of Andover; daughters, Robin J. Froburg of Andover and Wendi L. Dart of Waltham; a brother, David A. of California; and three grandchildren.

Funeral services will be tomorrow at noon in the Andover Baptist Church, 7 Center St. Burial was at Spring Grove Cemetery.

Memorial contributions may be made to the Andover Baptist Church.

Alice (Rondeau) Berube, 81, Lawrence, died Saturday, Jan. 16, 1988, at Lawrence General Hospital.

Mrs. Berube was born in Lawrence and attended Sacred Heart Church.

She is survived by sons, Arthur and Raymond Berube of North Andover and Leo, Henry and Gerard Berube of Lawrence; daughters, Mrs. Joseph (Theresa) DiCenzo of Lawrence, Sister Jeannette Berube of Jewett City, Conn. and Mrs. Cecile Kelly of Andover; 21 grandchildren; 12 great-grandchildren; and several nieces and nephews.

A mass was celebrated Tuesday morning at Sacred Heart Church.

Burial was in Sacred Heart Cemetery, Andover.

Charles A. Therrien

Charles A. Therrien, 70, 98 Lowell St., died Friday, Jan. 15, 1988, at the New England Baptist Hospital in Boston.

Mr. Therrien was born in Lawrence and was a lifelong area resident. He worked as a supervisor at the Internal Revenue Service in Andover until retiring.

Mr. Therrien was a member of St. Augustine parish and a former member of the Holy Name Society.

He attended St. Anne School, Lawrence High School and graduated from Burdett College in Boston.

He was a member of the Lawrence Lodge of Elks, Brotherhood Protective Honor of Elks, Number 65 and the IRS Retirees Association.

He was a World War II veteran, serving with the U.S. Army in North Africa and Italy during the liberation of Rome. In France, he was awarded the purple heart.

Survivors include his wife, Rita M. (Vaas); three sisters, Mrs. Laura Bolduc of St. Raphael, Canada, Mrs. Yvonne LeClair and Mrs. Rita Lacharite, both of Lawrence; and several nieces and nephews.

A Mass was celebrated Monday morning at St. Augustine Church, Andover. Burial was in the Holy Sepulchre Cemetery, North Andover.

Arthur I. LaPlante

Arthur I. LaPlante, 69, Lawrence, died Friday, Jan. 15, 1988, at Parkland Medical Center in Derry, N.H.

Mr. LaPlante was born in Lawrence and was a lifelong resident.

He was a lieutenant with the Lawrence Fire Department, having retired seven years ago.

Mr. LaPlante was a member of Sacred Heart parish and Lawrence Lodge of Elks, Brotherhood Protective Honor of Elks, Number 65.

He served in World War II and the U.S. Coast Guard.

Survivors include his wife, Bernadette (Martineau) LaPlante; two daughters, Mrs. Robert (Jacqueline) Minasian of Andover, Mrs. Raymond (Linda) Begin of Methuen; four grandchildren; a niece and a nephew.

A Mass was celebrated Tuesday morning at Sacred Heart Church.

Ruth Frances Branz

Ruth Frances Branz, the Lawrence Garden Club.

Longwood Drive, died suddenly Thursday, Jan. 14, 1988, at Lawrence General Hospital.

Miss Branz was born in Portland, Maine, and lived in Lawrence and Andover all her life.

She graduated from the Lawrence public schools and received a teaching degree from Emerson College. She was a retired teacher in the Lawrence school system.

Miss Branz was the recording secretary for the Jewish Family Service Board of Directors and a member of the Board of Trustees of the Andover Terrace Condominiums.

She was a lifelong member of Sisterhoods of Temple Emanuel of Andover, Sisterhood Congregation Anshe Shulim of Lawrence and Tifereth Anshe Sfard of Lawrence.

Miss Branz was also a member of the Lawrence chapter of Hadassah and the Lawrence Garden Club.

Survivors include a sister, Ethel Branz of Andover; a brother, Brewster Branz of Portland, Maine; three nephews, Steven, Andrew and Harvard Branz.

Miss Branz was the sister of the late Judith Branz and Yale Branz.

Services were held Sunday afternoon at Temple Emanuel, Andover.

Budget Increases By 10 Percent

By Frank Messina

The 1988-89 budget submitted by Town Manager Ken Mahony to the Town Finance Committee last Friday is a fat, 10 percent larger than last year, thanks to new growth in Andover, said Mahony.

Overall, Mahony projects a budget of $46,609,581 in calendar 1988, up from an actual 1987 budget of $42,917,711.

However, the money will mainly be used on non-glamorous essentials such as pay increases for town staff, increased health insurance and waste disposal costs.

New housing and commercial development could account for as much as $2 million in income with the final figures available from the state in March, said Mahony, before the April 8 Town Meeting where Andover voters will give final approval to the budget.

The figures were released Jan. 15, the third Friday in January as required by town bylaws. It will be flexible to the tune of about $500,000 because of the unrealized growth revenue figures.

Income from new development is like bonus money to Massachusetts towns and cities, whose property tax income is capped by Proposition 2½.

Mahony and his staff estimated income from new construction and the town manager termed the $2 million figure as conservative.

The proposed budget slices the revenue pie into several pieces, with the largest chunk, 39.1 percent, going to Andover schools. Town budget items take the next biggest slice, 31.9 percent, with debt stabilization coming in at 12.7 percent, insurance at 5.3 percent, municipal building and maintenance at 3.5 percent, retirement funds at 2.5 percent, state and county expenses at 2 percent and other costs at 3.1 percent.

Salary insurance and waste disposal costs continued to increase, said Mahony.

Both town and school employee groups negotiated a six percent raise for the coming year, a pay hike that Mahony feels is reasonable.

Health insurance costs continue to skyrocket, with the 1988 projected costs of $772,000 coming up almost double the 1986 figure of $401,000. In 1987, the town paid $502,000 for health insurance.

To combat the spiral, Mahony said he plans to propose setting aside $1.8 million from next year's budget to put into a health insurance fund which would help keep health insurance from "continually escalating."

Solid waste disposal is another budget area that has seen a 100 percent increase since 1986, said Mahony. In that year, the town spent $594,000 for waste disposal. In 1988 he expects that figure to reach $1,204,000.

Still, Mahony says the town is better off than some of its neighbors because Andover belongs to a group of municipalities known as the North Eastern Solid Waste Consortium which has banded together to help regulate disposal costs.

Overall, Mahony has called this a "status quo" budget with few major new items being offered up to Andover voters.

One item Mahony is very strong on, is a $20,000 proposal to increase Meals on Wheels food delivery to senior shut-ins to seven days a week, holidays included.

A state-funded project, Massachusetts hasn't yet released funds to improve the service and Mahony is tired of waiting.

"The idea that they (senior shut-ins) don't eat on those days and holidays horrifies me," said Mahony. "I think the town has this type of commitment, too. My only regret is that I didn't do this earlier."

The finance committee will now consider the budget and present their comments and support for their findings at the town meeting.

Tax Credit

In an effort to encourage the use of renewable energy in Massachusetts, Gov. Michael S. Dukakis signed legislation extending the availability of state tax credits for residents who install renewable energy systems on their homes. This credit was to expire December 31, 1987.

The law will extend the tax incentive, which is used primarily for the purchase and installation of solar-heated hot water systems, at the current level of 35 percent of the net cost of the system until next December 31. The credit will be reduced to 25 percent for the following two years and, on January 1, 1991, will be reduced to 15 percent.

Anyone who can accomplish a five and a half twisting back somersault on a trampoline is doing one of the most difficult maneuvers ever achieved. Called the Wills, the move is named after the five-time world champion, Judy Wills.

Most national flags use one or more of only seven basic colors—red, white, blue, green, yellow, black and orange.

Fatal Accident Case Begins

By Frank Messina

In first day testimony, three prosecution witnesses told jurors Tuesday they believed Constance Morris was under the influence of alcohol at the scene of a tragic car accident last year that claimed the life of one Andover youth and seriously injured two others.

One witness, a young Andover woman testified that Morris asked for breath mints and asked her to get rid of a drinking glass.

However, during cross-examination, defense attorney Phillip Nyman managed to get another witness to say he lied during a pre-trial deposition. Testimony from a third, Andover policeman Frank Froburg, was cut off before Nyman could cross-examine him when Judge John L. Murphy recessed the Newburyport Superior Court trial for the day.

Morris, 52, the wife of Tewksbury Fire Chief James Morris, is charged with vehicular homicide and two counts of driving under the influence of alcohol in connection with the February 1987 death of Andover High student Peter Cookson.

Morris sat impassively next to her attorneys as Steven LeCain, 20, of Lawrence, recalled seeing a "drinking glass" under the Tewksbury woman's brake pedal and smelling alcohol in the car.

LeCain was the first person to reach Morris' car after the accident, during which teenagers Cookson, Scott Livermore and Daniel McDonald were thrown from a convertible driven by Ramsey Lewis, who received minor injuries from the accident.

LeCain testified that Morris was "just sitting there" when he rapped on the car window and didn't respond until he opened the driver's side door.

"I asked her if she was all right," said LeCain. "She said, 'I know I killed them. I killed them.'"

At that point, LeCain told the jury and prosecuting attorney Joseph Green that he smelled alcohol fumes and noticed a drinking glass on the floorboard.

After seeing that Morris was physically healthy, LeCain said he went to the accident victims, offering a vivid description of where their bodies had landed and the extent of their injuries.

Returning to Morris' 1983 Chevrolet Caprice about 10 minutes later, LeCain said he noticed the glass was missing and caught the smell of cherry cough drops.

"In your opinion, was Constance Morris intoxicated?" asked Green.

"Yes," replied LeCain. "She was not sober."

Under cross-examination, Nyman immediately attacked LeCain's credibility.

Five days after the accident, Andover policeman Froburg found a drinking glass near the scene.

In early June, LeCain was called into the Andover police station to identify the glass, which had been dusted for fingerprints.

A few months later, during a deposition in Cambridge, LeCain stated that fingerprints were left on the glass that belonged to Morris.

"And, that was a lie" Nyman asked/told the witness.

"Yes," LeCain said quietly.

During a second round of questioning, Green tried to make it clear that LeCain's statement was an unintentional mistake caused by his viewing the dust-covered glass in the Andover police station.

However, when Nyman cross-examined the witness again, the attorney asked LeCain if he knew his statement was untrue.

Again, LeCain replied, "Yes."

Earlier, Nyman was less successful with the prosecution's first witness, Christine Demoulas, 19, of who arrived on the scene shortly after LeCain.

Demoulas had said that Morris was stuttering and had alcohol on her breath.

"She asked for a breathmint," said Demoulas, "she then found a Hall's cough-drop in her pocket and ate it."

Demoulas also said Morris held up a drinking glass and asked her to take it. The Andover resident said she placed it outside the car.

Nyman asked her why she didn't include this information in her initial statement to police.

"To me it was obvious that she was (intoxicated), so I didn't think it was necessary," said DeMoulas.

Over objections raised by Nyman, Froburg also testified that "In my opinion, she (Morris) was under the influence of liquor."

The Andover policeman said he based his conclusion upon observing Morris at the scene.

Morris, who is employed as a Tewksbury fire dispatcher, appeared to be confused, not recognizing her car registration papers, said Froburg.

Morris also admitted she had earlier consumed three scotch and waters, said Froburg.

However, Froburg, arriving about 10 to 20 minutes after LeCain, testified that he could not smell alcohol in the car.

The police officer, after hearing about the alleged drinking glass from LeCain and conducting an unsuccessful search for it in Morris' car, went back to the scene about five days later.

He found a glass that LeCain later identified, however, fingerprint tests were inconclusive, said Froburg.

Condo Course

North Shore Community College will offer its popular six-week condominium trustee training program in Lynn, beginning January 27 from 7:05 p.m. to 9:05 p.m.

Class meetings will view the condominium association from its inception with the developer through annual meetings and the annual budget cycle, in lectures and class discussions. Important documents such as Massachusetts General Law, Chapter 183A and typical condominium master deeds and association by-laws will be examined.

Among the topics to be included are transition from the developer, budgeting and insurance and working with unit owners. Registration is on-going. Call the division of continuing education.

Phillips Buildings To Undergo Renovation

By Julie M. Barry

A historic rehabilitation plan to preserve three buildings on the former Abbot Academy campus was approved by Trustees of Phillips Academy last weekend.

The tentative plan consists of a $12-15 million renovation of Abbot Hall (1829), Draper Hall (1890) and McKeen Memorial Hall (1904).

In a press release, Headmaster Donald W. McNemar said "the strength of this plan in comparison to past attempts at saving these buildings is that the campus will not really change. The rehabilitation calls for no new construction outside existing walls. The benefit to the school is that we save these lovely buildings for our future use; the benefit for the town and neighbors is the resolution of a 15-year-old dilemma and the availability of rental apartments."

There have been two previous plans to conserve the buildings. A lifecare center was proposed in 1978 and a conference center was proposed in 1986. Neither plan was approved.

According to the academy's press release, the plans introduced new land uses and did not retain Phillips Academy's active participation.

The press release stated that unlike previous plans, this one contains minimal changes in zoning requirements because there is little need for new land uses. And the academy would be involved in this plan. It would control the planning and implementing of the preservation effort.

Draper would become a market-rate rental apartment building of approximately 55 units.

PA and other educational organizations would continue to use Abbot and McKeen.

The New England Document Conservation Center and the Andover Day Care Center are currently housed in those buildings. They would continue to be part of the restored complex. Some space would probably be available to other educational organizations.

Since the trustees approved the concept, further research is necessary. The zoning law will be affected because Draper is being changed to a multi-family rental building. "We have to extend the existing zoning law into that area," said Neil Cullen, Phillips' chief financial officer.

Cullen stressed that it is a narrow zoning request, which would enable Draper Hall to become an apartment building. "We wouldn't have the ability to use the new zoning laws in any other way," said Cullen.

Although PA would rent some of the apartments for school employees, Cullen doubts there would be enough demand to fill the entire building. "It's conceivable, but unlikely," he said. That is why steps are being taken to get proper zoning.

Nancy Jeton, the town's principal planner, pointed out that a similar zoning proposal was used in converting Sacred Heart School to Balmoral Condominiums in the late 1970s. She said, "Phillip's zoning approach parallels that effort."

"The town's seen it (zoning request) before and accepted it," Jeton said. Whether or not it will be accepted at the Town Meeting "depends on the mood of the town," she said.

Although Jeton said "it's an interesting proposal," she remains neutral. "It's my job to bring issues into the public domain and help people understand them," Jeton said.

Zoning Laws must get approved by the Town Planning Board. Phillips plans to present the concept at a public hearing before the Planning Board on March 8.

What to do with the buildings has been an on-going problem. Phillips

Academy "couldn't justify spending all kinds of money for renovation because we don't have a use for all of the space. But, we wanted to restore the buildings for historical reasons," said Chris Shaw, assistant headmaster.

Shaw pointed out that the plan was financially feasible for Phillips because the school won't be paying for the renovations.

An investment partnership would be established to finance the project. The partnership would lease the land from PA for a specified term. They would rehabilitate the buildings and rent the restored/renovated residential and educational space. At the end of the lease term, they would return the improved property to the academy.

The length of the lease term has not been determined.

A 20 percent investment tax credit is available to investors who participate in the rehabilitation of qualified historic buildings. All three buildings, Abbot, Draper and McKeen, qualify for the tax credit.

In addition, the investors would gain a return from the rental income of Draper.

Once Upon A Time . . . Andover Author Conducts Workshop At Bancroft

By Julie M. Barry

Tales of children jumping over fences at night to steal tomatoes from the neighbor's garden and hiding chocolate Easter eggs in an uncooked turkey kept 23 sixth-graders at Bancroft Elementary School captivated.

The storyteller, Jeff Kelly of 170 Elm St., children's book author, is participating in Bancroft's three-week "writer in residence."

Kelly started teaching five classes a day Monday, Jan. 11, and will conclude the workshop Friday, Jan. 29. His students will write, illustrate and bind their own books at the culmination of the program.

"(The program) integrates all the language arts skills — writing, editing and listening," said sixth-grade teacher Irene Crane. "The children will be working collaboratively, helping each other out."

Kelly meets with students in grades two through six several times during his stay at the school.

"My role is to supply inspiration," he said. "My approach is to get kids to use personal experiences as vehicles for writing fiction."

He encourages the children to start off with a non-fiction idea, something that happened to them, when beginning their books. Then he shows them how to stretch the truth and use their imagination to make the memory a story.

Kelly has an amazing rapport with children. At one meeting, he entertained a sixth-grade class with renditions of his own personal experiences.

"He's like a magnet," Crane said. Incorporated in his storytelling was a review of the fundamental elements of a story, such as plot and climax.

Kelly's visit was scheduled as part of the Parent-Teacher Organization's cultural arts program. He has written two children's books to date, Tramp Steamer and The Silver Bullet and The Basement Baseball Club. He's currently writing a third book called An Old Fashioned Ghost Story. Kelly's books are geared toward children in grades four through six.

Kelly, who has been writing children's books for three years, knows his audience. Before writing became full-time, he was a teacher for ten years. Four of those were spent at Andover High School's English department.

This is the first time he has taught a writing seminar in Andover, but he has given lectures at both South Elementary and St. Augustine's schools.

Bancroft is planning an Author's Night for the spring, when the children will present their books to parents.

South School Celebrates MLK Day

To prepare for Martin Luther King Day last week, South Elementary School's sixth-graders saw a film and wrote essays on one of the following quotes, which they memorized:

"If a man does not find something to die for, then his life is not worth living."
"People should be judged for the content of their character, not the color of their skin."

The fifth-grade class put together a presentation for the entire school. They performed Friday, Jan. 15, the actual date of civil rights leader Martin Luther King's birthday.

Exciting Possibilities

Phillips Academy trustees this past week announced plans for development of the former Abbot Academy campus.

The long-idle buildings and campus would be converted to apartments, to school use and to the continuation of a day care center and document preservation operation.

The plan offers exciting possibilities for retention of an historic part of Andover, as well as maintaining a neighborly attitude within the community.

Since Abbot, once a prestigious girls school, merged with Phillips in 1973, the property has remained idle with several proposals offered to develop the buildings and land.

First, was the proposed life-care facility proposed by an Ohio development firm.

The concept seemed appropriate. Problem was, however, there was a sense that if Phillips was desirous of going forward with such a development there would be little or no opposition.

But neighbors in the School, Central street and abutting neighborhoods were less than enthralled with the proposal with its threat of increased traffic and need for additional facilities.

Thus, the proposal was defeated at town meeting.

Subsequently there have been plans for multi-family construction, mixed with some single-family homes, which neighbors and the town in general have not been overly exuberant about.

Earlier this year, the trustees decided the best use of the property would be to retain it by the academy and come up with some sort of useful development.

The proposal calls for the expenditure of from $12 to $15 million for renovating and refurbishing McKeen, Draper and Abbot Halls. Draper is to be converted to apartments, Abbot will be applied to school use and McKeen will house the day care center now located in Draper, as well as the Northeast Document Center.

While considerable gutting of these buildings may be required, it is important to note that the exteriors are expected to be retained and enhanced.

Too, the academy intends to meet with neighbors in the area and explain their plans, which is a step in the proper direction.

There will be some rezoning required in order to accommodate the proposed apartments.

It would seem that if the conversion is done tastefully, as one could expect, there should be nothing offensive about the development and could well win easy approval.

In any case, the academy decision to retain the property and develop it on its own is a welcome one. Phillips, among the town's top taxpayers, has always been a good neighbor. Developing their own property would seem to assure the town of its concern to maintain that reputation.

Just A Thought

By Bob Finneran

The bitter, bone-chilling cold of last week actually didn't bother me that much.

Stayed inside as much as possible, being sensible, one might guess.

But, had the need arisen to drift out into the winter wilds, I was prepared.

I have a parka, which I wear when New England decides to live up to its reputation at this time of year, such as periods of descending snowflakes, thrusts of sleet and ice, and the influx of what some refer to as the Montreal Express, such as befell the area last Wednesday and Thursday in particular.

The parka is nothing special. It's a Maine Guide job when casually worn obtains hardly a second look.

But put into action with the innumerable buttons, snaps, zippers, laces, fur-lined hood, etc. it generally brings forth guffaws from associates, friends and even those I don't even know.

But laugh, if they will, be assured that fully buttoned, zipped, etc. could have ventured out last Thursday night, if necessary, without becoming an instant monument, frozen in place.

Mention all this, because there's a little nostalgia involved.

See, back when we walked to school on those icy days, we were adorned in snow suits which were so blasted bulky that if you fell over you'd probably lie there 'til spring.

Well, in the first grade at the old Bradstreet school in North Andover, stood a school marm by the name of Miss Devoy, who when the snow suits showed, promptly gave instructions on how to suit up for recess or heading home.

What happened was the youngsters were taken to the corridor, told to take their storm apparel, throw it on the floor, then lie in it and button up.

So much for early lessons in survival.

Now, I've got to get on with the matter of fixing the mittens in my parka. The darn string broke that goes around the back and through the sleeves.

Those interested in sports are certainly familiar with the two-minute drill in football or the last couple of minutes of a professional basketball game when most of the action takes place.

Couldn't help but think of a similar situation played out annually on our own Beacon Hill play yard, known as the Great and General Court.

Annually, these august leaders of the state who guide our destiny, enjoy, at rather fitting salaries one might add, the pleasure of acting as our representatives and protecting interests of the constituency, while at the same time checking out weighty matters on junjets here, there and everywhere.

Then, as the legislative year rolls toward an end shortly after the dawn of the new year, our state solons shift into action acting on any number of items which, ultimately, will cost each and every one of us something in the long run.

And, they laugh at New Hampshire, a state which pays its legislators a pittance, and tells them to get the business done in a specific amount of time.

Such directive is needed in the Bay State.

Had a note from the Massachusetts Audubon Society this past week noting their concern about the amount of road salt being found in some water supplies due to salting of roads in the winter time.

Andover was mentioned as one of the communities where there is concern, but not of a serious nature. The problem stems mainly from the proximity of Haggetts Pond, the town's main reservoir, to major interstate highways.

Interestingly enough, North Andover's water supply was exempt from any condemnation due to sodium.

The reason is doubtless there's so much other stuff in the water there, it would be impossible to find any of the chemical. Mercury from shrimp-like creatures maybe, but no salt.

DOWN THE YEARS

100 Years Ago — January 1888

The fine sleighing on Main Street last Saturday afternoon brought out many of our fast horses who seemed to enjoy the trotting as much as their drivers.

The trial of McEvoy, whose liquor was seized by Chief Cheever, has been postponed. It seems to be hard work to stop outside parties from selling liquor in Andover, but our Chief of Police will have the sympathy of the best part of the community in his endeavors—let him "keep at it."

About sixty persons attended the special meeting of the Farmers' Club last evening called to discuss in an informal manner the Water question. John L. Smith argued strongly for the necessity and desirability of a public water supply. Mr. Lincoln opposed the supply on the ground that it was an unnecessary expenditure.

Three additional victims of the Bradford train disaster have died during the week, making fourteen in all. Judge Carter of Haverhill, before whom a judicial investigation was conducted as to the responsibility for the disaster, acquits the employees of the road of any way or carelessness, but decides that trains should not be allowed to run so fast at that particular spot with its dangerous surroundings.

75 Years Ago — January 1913

Eight hundred survivors of the disabled Hamburg American liner Abissinia, passed through Andover yesterday on their way to Boston. They were in a special train which stayed over night in the yard of the Boston and Maine in Lawrence. They came from Halifax where the disabled steamer put in.

The pupils of Punchard school held a very enjoyable football rally in the school hall. A review was given of the successful work which last year's team accomplished, and speeches were made by the various members of the squad. The singing of school cheers added to the pleasure of the evening.

A beginning has been made this week in the work of moving various departments of the Tyer Rubber Company from their old plant to their new factory.

There was a rather unusual automobile accident on Main Street near Morton. In some way the front axle broke and the wheels came off so that the driver lost control of the auto, and the machine struck a tree near the side of the road, damaging the front quite badly.

The Pros And Cons Of The Collaborative School

Supports School

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

I am very much looking forward to sending my son, currently attending kindergarten at the Shawsheen School, to the proposed Andover/Lawrence Collaborative School. I support the proposed school for a variety of reasons, not the least of which is the opportunity to choose an educational environment for my child based on a particular educational philosophy. This opportunity is one that is certainly unique to this particular situation. My current fourth-grade child went to the school designated by our particular geographic location, not because of any particular curriculum or teaching methodology espoused by that one school. Choosing a school implies a certain level of parent commitment and this commitment can only help to improve a school, as many research studies have shown.

Research also indicates that the overall success of a school, measured by such factors as achievement scores, parent satisfaction and teacher retention rate, is significantly dependent upon full participation by all teachers and professional staff working as a learning/teaching team in the development of curriculum and instruction. This design seems to be at the heart of the collaborative school and it is one that could have significant positive impact on all children in the Lawrence and Andover schools.

Other significant factors to the collaborative school which I find appealing to me both as a parent and as an educator, are the smaller class size, the extensive university involvement, the level of staff development, the diagnostic/prescriptive approach to learning and the K-8 continuity.

We all, as parents, want quality education for our children and there are many different definitions as to what that means. I feel that the opportunity for our family to decide that the collaborative school is what we want for our child is the best example of quality education I have seen. The keys to the success of the school are commitment and voluntarism, both of which are integral parts of the plan. I urge your support.

Misleading Impression

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

I wish to respond to your article about the proposed Andover-Lawrence Collaborative School (CS) in your January 14 edition. Your headline, "Andover Parents Favor School," made a misleading impression that Andover parents in general have decided in favor of the CS. Rather, many Andover parents (and residents in general) have yet to form opinions on the CS. My fervent hope is that you will make a balanced presentation of the arguments of both proponents and opponents of the CS. The proposed CS is a highly complex issue. To treat it as a one-sided matter is to do a disservice both to yourselves and to your readership.

Your article also minimized recent changes in the Commonwealth's plan for funding the CS construction. And you glossed over the fact that many practical questions about the CS remain unanswered. Foremost among unresolved issues is the question of whether a majority of Andover's citizens want the proposed CS. Mr. Dennis Richards, CS project director, has promised to conduct an opinion survey within weeks. A survey is long overdue; in fact, it should have been the first order of business within the CS feasibility study. Nonetheless, I urge Mr. Richards to perform a thorough, objective survey and to share his findings with the public immediately so that questions of community support (or lack thereof) may be resolved. Had he done a survey long ago and had he found that Andover wants the CS, a climate of controversy may not have emerged. Citizens who are undecided about the CS, as well as CS opponents (principally the Citizens for Neighborhood Schools) have challenged Mr. Richards and CS proponents to prove (a) that community support for the CS exists and (b) that there are indeed 400 Andover children whose parents will volunteer them for the CS. Regardless of whether one favors or opposes the CS, community support is penultimate. That is what democracy is all about.

I do not object to the possibility that the TOWNSMAN's editorial posture is one which favors the CS, but I should like to think that you will be fair and objective in presenting basic news about the CS project. I urge you, TOWNSMAN, to offer a fair, balanced presentation of all facts and all legitimate perspectives on the CS issue. And I urge you, fellow citizens, to examine the CS issue, form an opinion and vote on the question of the CS at the April Town Meeting.

Abyssmal Approach

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

In numerous discussions I have had with proponents and opponents of the Lawrence/Andover Collaborative School proposal, there is one point upon which all the people I have spoken to agree, the process and the manner in which the collaborative issue has been presented to the communities involved has been abyssmal. Based upon my attendance at collaborative school meetings and careful review of related documents, I feel there have been five principle problems with this flawed communications process.

1. The project study manager, Mr. Richards, has not conducted himself as an unbiased educational researcher seeking meaningful input from all concerned parties, as one would expect from someone administering a $250,000 educational study grant. He has instead acted as a hard-sell public relations man for the $35 million building project.

2. The assumption of the attitudinal stance of moral missionaries which was adopted by Dr. Seifert and Mr. Richards was not conducive to encouraging the thoughtful exchange of concerns about the very complex collaborative school proposal. In fact, the first appearance of reservations about any aspect of the collaborative proposal prompted Dr. Seifert and Mr. Richards to throw down the gloves of respectful disagreement and seize the brass knuckles of emotional reaction and call anyone who had a legitimate question about the collaborative proposal morally bankrupt.

3. The Andover TOWNSMAN and The Lawrence Eagle-Tribune have not contributed to an environment where a free exchange of ideas can take place. These newspapers have helped to create an atmosphere where citizens are afraid to speak their minds because any fair question about a problem with the present proposal will be unfairly reported as social elitism.

4. It was inappropriate for Mr. Richards to begin making presenta-

Salary Is Low

To The Editor Of The TOWNSMAN:

I am a licensed practical nurse and that means I am a nurse who does practically everything. I am your bedside nurse, I change your dressings, hang your I.V. fluids and I.V. meds and give you all your other medications. I am your bedside nurse, the one you talk to, the one who cares and takes care of you. LPNs have 12 to 15 months of schooling and, along with the RNs, I had to pass state boards in order to practice my profession and I also have to take continuing education courses each year to maintain my license. I work side by side with RNs. I'm valued as a teamleader, medication nurse and bedside nurse.

Lately you have been reading quite a few articles regarding nursing shortages, in most of which RNs are the only nurse referred to. The LPNs at Lawrence General Hospital are an integral part of your hospital stay. It has also been said by a hospital administrator that "LPNs are the backbone of LGH."

Recently, Lawrence General Hospital gave the RN's a pay increase, yet the LPNs were ignored, even though starting pay for an LPN is only $7.39 per hour.

I hope that the Lawrence General Hospital wakes up soon and realizes that the RNs are not their only valued nurses, but that they have a small army of LPNs with many years of experience that need to be appreciated for their worth also. Lawrence General Hospital—you have a team of competent nurses who are LPNs, who deserve the recognition that they have worked so long and hard for.

Volunteers Needed

Volunteers are needed for a new program that will open up the fascinating world of plants to fourth-grade students in the Boston schools.

The purpose of "Plants go to School" is to give children the opportunity to develop an understanding of how plants function as well as the important role that plants play in our daily lives.

Children will learn the satisfaction of planting a seed and watching it grow. For many this will trigger the beginning of scientific questioning as well as an awakening of ecological awareness.

Training sessions for volunteers will be held Thursdays, Feb. 11 and 18, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. and will include the basics of botany and horticulture, step-by-step instructions for discussions and experiments and an orientation to the role of the volunteer in the classroom.

For further information, contact Debi Hogan, children's program coordinator, Massachusetts Horticultural Society, 300 Massachusetts Avenue, Boston.

PLANNING BOARD PUBLIC HEARING

In accordance with Chapter 40 G. L. Section 5, notice is hereby given that the Andover Planning Board will hold a Public Hearing on Tuesday, February 9, 1988, at 8:00 P.M., at the West Junior High School Auditorium, Shawsheen Road, Andover, MA, to consider the following amendments to the Zoning Bylaw:

ARTICLE:

To see if the Town will vote to amend the Zoning Bylaw, Article VIII of the Town Bylaws, as follows:

(1) By deleting subsection IV.B.29.(e) in its entirety and substituting the following:

"IV.B.29.

(2) Junk or scrap yard, which shall mean a lot used for the storage of any worn-out, cast-off or discarded material ready for destruction or collected for salvage or conversion to some use.

(f) Storage in the open of more than one unregistered vehicle or registered vehicle not in condition for travel. The one unregistered or non-working motor vehicle permitted shall be stored so that it is not visible from any way or from any residential property which abuts the lot on which the motor vehicle is stored", and

(2) By renumbering subsection IV.B.29.(f) and (g) as IV.B.29.(g) and (h) respectively.

In accordance with Chapter 40 G. L. Section 5, notice is hereby given that the Andover Planning Board will hold a Public Hearing on Tuesday, February 9, 1988, at 8:00 P.M., at the West Junior High School Auditorium, Shawsheen Road, Andover, MA, to consider the following amendments to the Zoning Bylaw:

ARTICLE:

To see if the Town will vote to amend the Zoning Bylaw, Article VIII of the Town Bylaws, by adding a new subsection VI.B.51 to read as follows:

IV.B.

51. Family day care home in a private residence where a resident of the premises provides day care on a regular basis for six (6) or fewer children, licensed by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts under the provisions of MGL Chapter 28A, as amended. Family day care home shall not mean a private residence used for an informal cooperative arrangement among neighbors, friends or relatives, or the occasional care of children with or without compensation,

Coupon Shoppers Can Earn

For many people refunding has become a profitable home business which they can run from the kitchen table. Believe it or not, top refunders get back most of their grocery money each month. If their grocery bill is $500 and they receive $450 in refunds, that money is clear, and that's a nice little business.

Manufacturers issue coupons in the hope of establishing regular customers for their products and would like to see them used. An astonishing fact is that, though 83-billion coupons and refunds are issued each year, only 5 percent of them are ever used.

A consumer service group has obtained a special report that gives the inside tips on how to get more manufacturer coupons and refunds each week. The report also tells shoppers how to set themselves up to receive manufacturers' refund checks in the mail on a regular basis, which is one of the keys to saving up to 90 percent of their grocery bill. The service also shows some shoppers how to actually earn money depositing special supermarket coupons.

Shoppers interested in receiving this report should send a self-addressed, stamped (long) envelope to Consumer Services, P.O. Box 1264, Central Avenue, Scarsdale, N.Y. 10583-9264.

SPORTING LIFE

Men Swimmers Win Two

The Andover High School men's varsity swim team won 101-69 over Lowell and 91-72 over Nashua last week, boosting their record to 3-1 in Merrimack Valley Conference competition.

Corey Ouellette and co-captain Albert Garcia joined co-captain Chris Hart and freshman Craig EerAnanian to win the medley relay against Lowell. Geoff Schaake, David Grace, Eric Jones and Kyle Marcella were third.

Ouellette took the 200 yard freestyle with Schaake second and Paul Mitchell third.

Garcia captured the 200 yard individual medley with Sean Herlihy second. Hart was second in the 50 free with DerAnanian third.

Marcella missed first place in the diving competition by only 2½ points. Scott Goddess was third and Eddie Pascucci fourth.

Hart won the butterfly while Jones was second. DerAnanian won the 100 free with Grace third and Brad Cronin fourth.

Continuing his improvement in the 500 free, freshman Schaake missed first place by nine one-hundredths of a second. Mitchell was third.

Ouellette won the backstroke with Fred Hohn fourth and Dave Friedenson fifth.

Garcia won the 100 yard breaststroke with Herlihy third and Jones fourth. Cronin, Matt Pokress, Tony Wolcott and Hohn were second in the 400 yard freestyle relay.

Ouellette, Garcia, Hart and DerAnanian won the medley relay against Nashua with Schaake, Herlihy, Jones and Marcella third.

Ouellette was second in the 200 free with Schaake third. Garcia won the 200 I.M. with Herlihy third.

Hart and DerAnanian were second and third, respectively, in the 50 free while Marcella and Goddess battled for the diving victory. Marcella eked out a two-point victory and Eddie Pascucci was third.

Hart remained undefeated in the butterfly as DerAnanian, Grace and Cronin went 2-3-4 in the 100 free as did Schaake, Mitchell and Pokress in the 500 free.

Ouellette won the 100 backstroke over a Nashua opponent on a judge's decision with both swimmers recording identical times. Garcia was second. Jones fourth and Herlihy was fifth in the 100 yard breaststroke.

Cronin, Marcella, Grace and Hohn were second in the 400 yard free relay with Wolcott, Marcella, Parker and Jayne third.

AHS Girls

Top Lowell

By Cathy Allard

The Andover girls' basketball team continues to develop into a steady team as demonstrated in the game against Lowell.

Andover defeated Lowell 45-38 and led the entire way with Jackie Kupa contributing 17 points and 13 rebounds.

Four days later Andover played a tough Lawrence team, losing 42-34. Lawrence raced to a lead in the first half but Andover tied the score by half-time. The rest of the game swung back and forth, but in the end, Lawrence ran away with it.

Julie Salazaar had a strong game with ten points and seven rebounds. Lisa Fossella had nine points and four rebounds.

PeeWee B's Win Pair

Andover's PeeWee B hockey team defeated Melrose 3-2 and Methuen 7-1 and lost to Woburn in games over the last week.

Andover outplayed a hard-hitting Melrose team with a solid team performance. Melrose took a lead early in the first period when they scored while shorthanded.

Andover Bantams Lose

Andover Bantam Gold had three power plays in the first five minutes of play but couldn't put the puck in the net. Jonathan Shine's slap shot from the blue line was finished off with a score by Bob Sheehan. North Andover was kept out of Andover's end for the better part of the first period by aggressive defense by the defensive pairings of Shine and Leng as well as Parker and Constantine.

Kenny Leng's deflected goal off a North Andover player gave Andover a 2-0 lead in the first period. North Andover settled down in the second and third periods to score three unanswered goals before John Melillo scored on a wrist shot from the front of the slot on a feed from Chris Pothier.

Within a minute of Andover's third goal, North Andover scored its fourth and go-ahead goal on a breakaway down the right wing. Aggressive play from both teams was evidenced by 18 penalties, including two misconducts.

In winter, alligators bury themselves in mud, go into deep holes or remain resting under water.

Brendan Sheehy tied the game at 6:43 of the first with assists going to Ritchie Enos and Sean Donohue. Mike Lombard scored 20 seconds later with an assist from Darrin Cianci. Melrose tied the score 2-2 early in the third period only to see Cianci score the game-winner seven seconds later, assisted by Lombard. Andover tightened their defense for the next nine minutes and skated off with a well deserved 3-2 victory.

Andover went on a scoring parade against Methuen at Volpe Arena. Sheehy (two goals) opened the scoring at 9:04 of the first period with assists from hustling defensemen John Brodbine and Donohue. Methuen tied the game just before the end of the first period on a power play. Andover recorded six goals in the second period. Enos (two goals) started the scoring at 2:43 when he deflected a booming slap shot from the point by Brodbine. Lombard got his first of two a minute later with an assist from Doug Batchelder. Cianci scored with 12 seconds left in the period. Andover lost 3-2 to Woburn last Sunday.

Depot House of Pizza: Portable Fare

Every once in awhile, the mind goes blank! Yet, every evening there are a bunch of hungry people dashing into the kitchen, calling out, "What's for supper?"

The next time the "blanks" hit you, think "Depot House of Pizza." Pack everyone into the station wagon and head for 53 Essex Street, across from the old railroad station. Don't think twice about the kids in their jeans and sweat shirts. This is a casual family restaurant, where good food is to be enjoyed.

Can't get the kids away from the TV? No problem! Not only is the food at Depot House of Pizza tasty and nutritious, it's also portable.

Call your order in to 475-0055 and they'll have it ready by the time you get there. Have them include a family size Greek salad and your meal is complete.

Depot House of Pizza offers regular and family size pizzas to which you can add a choice of fourteen different toppings. You may select the "Special" pizza which features hamburger, sausage, peppers, mushrooms, ham, salami, onions and cheese or devise your own combination.

Pizza is the trademark of the Depot, however, there are other selections to whet your appetite. Where is a wide variety of grinders, as well as spaghetti with their special home-made sauce containing either sausage or meatballs. Should you desire lighter fare, you may want to try either the Greek salad or their delicious antipasto. Owner Jimmy Kautousis takes pride in making everything from scratch in order to serve his customers the freshest selection available.

Whether you choose to "take-out" or eat in the casual atmosphere of the restaurant, you'll enjoy the great food offered by the Depot House of Pizza. Open daily from 11 a.m. to 11 p.m. Tel. 475-0055

Repairing the damage.

I. T. Roberts Auto Body: Undetectable Repairs

I. T. Roberts Auto Body still remains the areas leading collision repair specialists. They are able to handle all makes and models of automobiles because of their up-to-date equipment which meets the demands of today and tomorrow. I. T. Roberts Auto Body is in the process of re-tooling to meet the requirements that the next five to ten years will necessitate.

Because of the radical changes in the automotive industry, I. T. Roberts is continually sending their personnel to up-date their training in the automotive repair field.

As others in the automotive repair industry have had to cease operations because of not being able to keep up with the new innovations and methods of automobile collision repairing, I. T. Roberts continues to meet the demands of today's technology.

I. T. Roberts Auto Body is located at 15 Blanchard Street in Lawrence, MA. Just over the bridge on Salem Street, in the shadow of St. Patrick's Cathedral, high quality workmanship is being performed daily by the highly skilled and trained auto body technicians. They are capable of repairing, back to factory-like conditions.

Tom Moreau, Manager of I. T. Roberts Auto Body, takes pride in the fact that the facilities is one of the brightest and cleanest auto body shops around. Mel Sciuto, Foreman, oversees the staff of technicians including Tom Murphy, Rick Moreau and Donald Brown. Frenchie Parent takes care of building maintenance, while Sis Wholley handles the office duties.

Stop by and see their facilities. They are open Monday thru Friday 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tel. 685-7677

Down The Years

50 Years Ago — January 1938

Political activity let down somewhat this week, but enough additional candidates took out papers to bring the total number of names on the ballot to well over 45.

The town employees' old age pension law, adopted by the town at the last state election, will cost the taxpayer nearly a dollar on the tax rate this year.

State senator Frank D. Babcock of this district is entering a bill in the legislature allowing the state department of public works the power of restricting truck traffic on certain streets, in accordance with a request made of him by the Andover highway safety committee.

Saturday morning, one of our local merchants was pretty well convinced that there is no recession, judging from the number of customers at his store. Or maybe he was convinced that the recession was getting worse, for all of the customers were of the bread-line type. Early in the morning the horde started to descend on him, asking for free meals. Some even ordered and ate the meals, and were indignant when he asked for payment. It seems that some prankster sent around to a large number of Phillips Academy students an authentic-looking card, explaining that the first students at the shop the next morning would get free refreshments!

Only a set of small coincidences stood between Highway Dept. Superintendent Stanley Chlebowsky and foreman John Lynch, and possible mutilation or death Monday. A giant tractor-trailer ran driverless down Lewis Street and smashed their DPW office into splinters.

Mrs. Barbara G. Moody has announced that she will seek to fill the one seat vacated on the School Committee by the retirement of its chairman, Robert McIntyre.

A final school budget of $1,823,881 has been approved by the School Committee.

The Rev. Bruce Van Blair has accepted a call from the West Parish Church and will resign his pastorate in Paxton to come here late this Spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Moss of Andover visited Washington, D.C. to attend the swearing-in ceremonies of Senator Edward M. Kennedy. Highlight of the trip was a special tour of the White House at which time Mr. and Mrs. Moss shook hands with the President.

An effort will be made tonight to establish a set of basic Urban Renewal statistics, which can then be the basis for community discussion.

Mrs. Lester T. Newill has become the TOWNSMAN's correspondent for personal and family news in the center of Andover.

10 Years Ago — January 1978

Superintendent Kenneth R. Seifert said this week there's "no doubt that there will have to be some redistricting in this town," beginning in September.

Selectman Richard J. Bowen officially submitted his resignation last week. The resignation, effective Jan. 1, vacates the seat and provides for its being filled by the electorate at the annual town election in March.

Snow, slush and freezing were the ingredients of a winter storm which hit the area Tuesday and Wednesday. Andover public works crews kept up with the battle against the elements throughout the storm and no serious accidents were reported to the police.

R.M. Bradley and Co., Inc., of Boston, officially announced plans for development of the largest convention and trade center in the northeast. It will be built on the former Shattuck Farm property. The center, along with a major hotel and restaurant complex to be developed on the site, will be a part of the Andover Tech Center.

The Central Business District Review Committee has announced that beginning Jan. 30, all day parking for bus commuters to Boston will be available in two locations. The additional parking spaces are a result of the generosity and cooperative spirit of the Faith Lutheran Church and the Tyer Rubber Company in allowing the use of their property for all day parking during the week by Boston commuters.

Flutie Guest

Doug Flutie, formerly of Boston College and now New England Patriots quarterback, will appear at the Northshore Shopping Center in Peabody on Sunday, Jan. 24, on the Star-Athon '88 Telethon to Benefit United Cerebral Palsy.

The telethon will be televised live on WCVB-TV, Channel 5 with Mike Lynch, principal sports anchor for Newscenter 5 as host.

The Aztecs of Mexico celebrated New Year's on February 2.

tions this fall that in essence suggested that construction of the 1,200 seat collaborative school in Andover was inevitable. This was unfair when no one in either community has had access to detailed descriptions of such primary attributes of the school as its hypothetical state-of-the-art facility, superior teaching and progressive curricula. Granted these are complex educational entities, still the public should not have been asked to support this project until they had had time to examine these complex issues.

5. The timing for the presentation of the collaborative school proposal could not have been worse. Andover has a critical need to expand its school space and it is likely that if the collaborative school is built it will be much more difficult to get Town Meeting to pass funding for new construction in other Andover schools.

In the end, an ar-

Letter

rogant and condescending style of presentation, unbalanced newspaper reporting and mistiming are very likely to sink this interesting educational proposal. Christopher Outwin, Ed.D. 4 High St.

Langford Seafood: From The Atlantic To Table

While most of us are still snuggled down under the quilts, Joe Lasonde has all ready been on the phone to find out what boats are on their way in and what their time of arrival will be. He'll be on the dock to meet them, so that you are guaranteed the freshest seafood available at the lowest prices around.

The second and third generations of this family are working to bring you the finest the Atlantic has to offer. Joe's wife Sandy handles the mechanics of the business, while daughters Linda and Lisa handle retail sales. Sons-in-law Chuck Saindon and Kevin Casey are store manager and back-shop foreman respectfully.

When you walk into this immaculate store, you will find the showcases brimming with haddock, cod, Boston scrod, flounder, swordfish, scollops and shrimp, just to name a few! Love lobster? (and what true New Englander doesn't?) Take your pick from their large tanks.

As an added bonus, Langford's Seafood offers a large selection of oven-ready entrees. All are made from fresh fish, have no artificial preservatives and are prepared on the premises. They come in single serving size or portions just right for two. Choose from such delights as stuffed scrod with or without cheese, stuffed haddock, lobster pies, scollop pies and stuffed shrimp.

Fridays are special days at Langford's. For your enjoyment, they cook seafood to order between the hours of 10:30 a.m. and 7 p.m. You'll find English style fish and chips, clams, scollops and onion rings. And, don't forget the chowder!

Visit Langford Seafood at their convenient 229 So. Union St., So. Lawrence location or call 682-3791. Open daily 7-5, Fri. 7-7, Sat. 8-4

TOWN OF ANDOVER

PUBLIC HEARING

In accordance with Chapter 40 G. L. Section 5, notice is hereby given that the Andover Planning Board will hold a Public Hearing on Tuesday, February 9, 1988, at 8:00 P.M., at the West Junior High School Auditorium, Shawsheen Road, Andover, MA, to consider the following amendments to the Zoning Bylaw:

ARTICLE:

To see if the Town will vote to amend the Zoning Bylaw, Article VIII of the Town Bylaws, as follows:

(1) By deleting subsection IV.B.50 and substituting the following:

"IV.B.50. Communications Structure, which shall be subject to the provisions of Section VI.N. of this Bylaw

- a. Tower for securing amateur communication antenna(s) designed to service the principal use.
- b. Dish antenna, which is a device incorporating a reflective surface that is bar configured or is solid or open mesh in the shape of a shallow dish, cone, horn or cornucopia. Such device shall be used to transmit and/or receive radio or electromagnetic waves between terrestrially and/or orbitally based uses.

50b. BA BA BA BA BA BA BA BA BA BA BA", and

(2) By deleting subsection VI.N. and substituting the following:

"VI.N. Communications Structure: A Special Permit for the installation of either: (a) a tower to secure amateur communication antenna(s), or (b) a dish antenna, may be granted by the Board of Appeals in districts where authorized by Section IV.B.50, provided that the following are complied with:

1. Plan Requirements

- a. A site plan certified by a Registered Land Surveyor or Registered Professional Engineer indicating the dimensions of the lot, and the proposed communications structure location and height and distances to property lines, existing and/or proposed building locations, existing and/or proposed overhead utility lines, proposed screening treatment, and such other reasonable information as the Zoning Board may require to properly review the merit and safety of the proposed structure.
- b. A construction plan indicating manufacturer's specifications for the structure's materials, construction details, and details for footing and guying.
- c. If the structure is intended to secure communications transmission equipment, the applicant shall provide evidence of a valid Federal Communications Commission license applicable to the proposed communication system.

2. Design Requirements

- (1) In SRA, SRB, and SRC districts, the communication structure shall be ground-mounted;
- (2) In SRA, SRB, and SRC districts, the communications structure shall be located in the rear yard only subject to setback requirements set forth below.

b. Setbacks

- (1) For purposes of public safety, a tower shall not be erected nearer to any property line than a distance equal to the vertical height of the tower inclusive of its appurtenant device(s) measured at the mean finished grade of the tower base;
- (2) Setback requirements for dish antenna shall be the same as those for accessory buildings.

c. Height

- (1) The height of a dish antenna shall be limited to a maximum of eighteen (18) feet, measured from the mean finished grade of the base for ground-mounts and from the peak of the roof for roof-mounts;
- (2) The height of a tower, inclusive of its appurtenant devices, shall not exceed one hundred (100) feet;
- (3) In SRA, SRB and SRC districts a dish antenna shall not be mounted on a tower.

d. Buffering

- (1) Recognizing the need to leave the reception window unobstructed, the communication structure shall be sited and screened to provide visual buffering from adjacent ways and residential lots;
- (2) A combination of berming, fencing, landscaping, and architectural and natural features may be required by the Zoning board to screen the base and the non-reception window sides of the structure to a height of at least six (6) feet.

e. Safety

- (1) The communications structure shall be located and screened in a manner which inhibits unauthorized access;
- (2) The Zoning Board may require a fence or locked gate surrounding the base of the communications structure at a height determined by the Board to be necessary to restrict unauthorized access.

f. Appearance

- (1) No portion of the communications structure shall at any time be utilized as a sign or have signage attached to it, other than signs bearing safety warnings, such signs not to exceed four square (4) feet in area.

3. Construction Requirements

- a. A building permit shall be required for the installation of a communications structure;
- b. The application for the building permit shall be accompanied by engineering documentation that the installation conforms to the structural and safety requirements of the Building Code.

4. Operating Requirements

- a. The communications structure shall be maintained in a manner that ensures its continued performance and safety;
- b. It shall be the responsibility of the owner of a tower to annually inform the inspector of Buildings, in writing, that the tower and all devices are in good operating condition and in continued use;
- c. A communications structure shall be dismantled by the applicant if:
 - (1) The use of the communications structure and its devices is discontinued for a period of two (2) years; or
 - (2) The inspector of Building determines the structure to be structurally unsound and a danger to life and limb.

5. Special Permit Procedures

- a. All requirements of Section VIII.C. of this Bylaw "Special Permits" shall be met;
- b. A Special Permit for a tower is not transferable. Within 120 days of the transfer of the lot upon which the tower is situated, the new owner shall either apply for a new Special Permit or dismantle the tower;
- c. A Special Permit issued for a dish antenna shall be transferable and shall run with the land."

Section 5, notice is hereby given that the Andover Planning Board will hold a Public Hearing on Tuesday, February 9, 1988, at 8:00 P.M., at the West Junior High School Auditorium, Shawsheen Road, Andover, MA, to consider the following amendments to the Zoning Bylaw:

ARTICLE:

To see if the Town will vote to amend the Zoning Bylaw, Article VIII of the Town Bylaws, by deleting subsection IV.B.38 in its entirety and adding new subsection IV.B.38B and 38C as follows:

"IV.B.

38B. Use of a portion of a primary dwelling by a resident of the premises as an office, studio, classroom or workroom for the conduct of a business or occupation for profit, subject to all of the following conditions:

- (a) Such a use shall be clearly incidental and secondary to the use of the premises for dwelling purposes;
- (b) There shall be no exterior indication of such use (no exterior storage of materials or equipment, no signs, no display of goods or wares) or variation from the residential character of the premises;
- (c) All employee and/or business-related parking shall be located off-street;
- (d) There shall be no more than one non-resident co-worker or employee;
- (e) Any products sold must be produced or assembled on the premises;
- (f) Any instruction given shall be limited to a maximum of three (3) students at a time;
- (g) Contact with non-student clients shall be by telephone or off-premises meeting only.

Real Estate

By DOUGLAS N. HOWE

REALTOR

PRICE OF OVERPRICING

When you decide to sell your home, the single most important factor in the sale is PRICE. The way you use your price-setting power will determine several factors: how quickly the house will sell, how difficult it will be to find a qualified buyer, and how much profit you stand to gain.

What happens if the price you set is too high? Consider the serious homeseeker whose requirements your house can fill. Suppose there are three such houses available in the area, and the other two carry more realistic price tags. Will that potential buyer even take the time to view yours?

It's not healthy, financially, for a home to sit unsold for a long period of time. The first month of initial exposure to the market is generally considered "prime time" for obtaining the best price. Residential real estate specialists agree that very often the first offer received turns out to be the best one. Don't lose this window of opportunity by overpricing.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Pouchard Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

SHE'S HOMELESS. YOUR NEXT MORTGAGE COULD HELP.

For this little girl's family and so many others, just having a roof over one's head seems like a vanished dream. So to help make the New England winter a little warmer for those without shelter, we at Commonwealth will donate $50 to homeless shelters throughout New England for every approved mortgage application received during December and January.

Your help for this cause is also a good personal investment. So if you're in the market for a home loan, give us a call and find out how your Commonwealth mortgage can make a significant difference this winter.

HOW TO HELP YOUR REALTOR SELL YOUR HOME

Once your home is listed for sale, it may be difficult for you to step aside and let your agent take over. When prospective buyers arrive, you may want to stand by to point out the closet extenders, the hidden spice cabinet behind the kitchen door, the energy saving storm windows or the updated copper plumbing. If you really want to help, however, you'll leave the house whenever it's being shown!

We've found that the sales process does not really begin until buyers begin to voice their objections about a property. Sometimes these concerns are serious and would remove your house from consideration. Often, however, people voice objections as a defense mechanism because they really love the house and they want to buy it. We're trained to know the difference. If a seller is standing at the agent's elbow, the buyer won't be comfortable enough to let this process take place, and we could lose the sale. It may be hard for you to do, but it's crucial that you get out of the way and let the agents go to work.

For professional advice on all aspects of buying or selling a home, talk to the professionals at Realty USA Schruender Real Estate. Come by our offices at 73 Chickering Road, North Andover or call us at 685-5000.

LANDOWNERS!

It's time to do "deep hole" and "perc" tests.

Development of land requires extensive testing and planning. It often requires months to obtain construction approvals for single family homes. Soil tests must be performed during the spring months to gain septic system approvals.

Contact our office for a free consultation in obtaining these approvals for your home construction or to substantially increase the value of property you intend to sell.

It is extremely important to act NOW if you intend to buy or sell land during the coming year.

Some Town Meeting Articles Appear To Be Illegal

By Frank Messina

When the Board of Selectmen meet Jan. 25 to decide what will make it onto the Town Meeting agenda and what won't, the Town Counsel will play an important part.

Due to the controversy developing over the past year over affordable housing development, several bylaw changes have been proposed by citizens opposed to affordable housing.

Some of these proposed changes will probably not become town law, even if approved by Andover voters because they violate state codes, said Town Manager Ken Mahony.

"A couple are clearly illegal," said Mahony.

In an interview, Mahony said that citizens who feel strongly about an issue will often submit a bylaw change without considering the legalities.

This year, affordable housing issues have spawned several attempts to choke off its development by using the town system.

"Some of these are a direct attempt to bypass the state," said Mahony. "It can't be done."

One example used by Mahony is the proposed Champy-Shetland subdivision. A submitted warrant article would restrict the development to four units per acre.

"Even if it were appropriate, it's an attempt to control comprehensive permits which overrides local laws." Or in other words, a backdoor maneuver, said Mahony.

But in any case, Mahony says he supports a citizen's right to submit a warrant article, legal or not.

Another article that the town manager has trouble with is a vote that would reject instituting a middle school by September, 1988.

Mahony professed no opinion as to the merits of the issue. His problem with the article is that it usurps state-given rights to the School Committee to run the school system.

"State law gives certain rights to the School Committee, like educating children," he said. "I don't care personally, but you have state law that mandates certain authority to the School Committee. (Town law) can't come in and change that."

Some articles become frivolous when they come up year after year, said Mahony.

Nothing of that nature has been submitted this year, although for the first time in nine years, a Whispering Pines Road article will not be heard at the town meeting, said Mahony.

A land use dispute involving local resident John Doyle, nothing was handed in to town hall by the deadline for submissions. Originally, acceptance of Whispering Pines Way was denied by town meeting, championed by Doyle, but the Essex County Commissioners, under an old provision of the law overturned that decision and compelled ordered the street accepted

"The income generated from use of the buildings and the tax credit enables you to find people who would be interested in investing," Cullen said.

"I think the plan is consistent with the way the buildings have been used before; it's consistent in both use and appearance," Cullen said.

Volunteers

If you like working with children and would like to learn more about the New England Spring Flower Show at the Bayside Exposition Center in Boston March 5-13, consider being a flower show guide. Two training sessions on Thursday, Feb. 25 and March 2, at 2 p.m. will orient volunteers to the flower show, teach basic botany and the special aspects of forcing plants for the show and discuss aspects of guiding children.

Children's group tours will be offered from 9 a.m. to 12 noon on weekdays.

Private Trust Opens

Private trustee services, formerly available only in Boston, have come to the Merrimack Valley with the opening of the private trust office at Andover Trust Inc.

"We have found substantial interest in a private, professional, highly personalized, local trustee service amongst individuals and their financial and legal advisers," said Robert B. Needham, president of Andover Trust Inc. "A private trust office founded on the centuries-old traditions of private trustees with long-term relationships and client-oriented service presents an attractive option to individuals who want to provide these benefits to their heirs."

The private trust office, located at 451 Andover St. in North Andover, will offer estate and financial planning and complete estate settlement services, as well as trust administration and investment services.

"As a private trustee we answer only to the terms of the trusts and the needs of our clients," Needham said. "All of our trusts will be individually invested in accordance with the directions of the person who established the trust consistent with the needs of the beneficiaries or other involved parties."

"Private trustees, as we know them today, began in the early 16th century in England and derived their powers under the Statute of Uses, which came into existence during the reign of Henry VIII. In fact, until the early 1900s, private trustees were the only trustees. Some of the Boston-based private trustees have roots extending back to the late 1700s and were formed to manage assets of early merchants and industrialists."

"Over the years, private trustee firms have managed and guided the investments of generation after generation of these families. It is our goal to provide this level of service, formerly available to only the very rich, to the residents of the Merrimack Valley."

New Uses For Old Treasures

If the things you find in your attic one day are too nice to throw out, try consigning them at Consignment Galleries.

A new business enterprise called Consignment Galleries opened last November at 8 High St., the white Victorian house across from Elm Square and Memorial Hall Library.

Consignment Galleries accepts antiques, furniture, paintings, rugs, glassware, lamps, jewelry and whimsical accessories from people wishing to sell.

Consignment Galleries' merchandise comes from people who may be moving, redecorating, or cleaning out attics or basements where items too good to be thrown away have been stored. Many times the consignors are surprised to learn how much their items are worth.

The variety of merchandise guarantees an interesting visit. For instance, an early oak barometer is on display with 10 Chippendale dining chairs around an antique pine farm table. Herend china, Limoges porcelain and Italian pottery pieces complement the Imari charger. In addition, there are numerous affordable collectibles for buyers looking for that special, small gift.

The management appraises and prices the merchandise, displays and advertises it for maximum exposure to ensure the highest possible return for the consignor. When the items are sold, the consignor receives 2/3 of the selling price and the store retains 1/3 for their services.

To keep the inventory interesting, articles in good condition are welcomed, everything except clothes or appliances will be evaluated. Prospective consignors may call and request a private consultation in their homes or bring the items in for evaluation. Pickup of large pieces can be arranged.

The shop also keeps a want list for customers who are looking for specific items. For example, one customer is looking for antique inkwells to add to her collection and another is searching for brass dolphin candlesticks.

Owner Jennifer Johnston invites everyone to visit Consignment Galleries to consign, purchase or just to browse. The shop is open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Saturday and there's plenty of free parking right in front of the shop.

Consignment Galleries is part of an international franchise with stores throughout New England, the southern United States and England.

Celebrating 11 Years Of Serving The Merrimack Valley

C.L.A.S.S. is an exceptional program for exceptional people.

Those are the words of Bob Hempe. And he should know. He's chairing C.L.A.S.S.'s annual fundraising drive.

His goal? To raise $18,000 to help support the remarkable things C.L.A.S.S. does for people.

C.L.A.S.S., short for the Citizens' League for Adult Special Services, 16 Haverhill St. in Andover, helps mentally retarded people find work — and feel better about themselves.

"For the first time in their lives, they feel like they're whole people," Hempe said. "They're no longer apart from the community. They're contributing members of society."

The 12-year-old organization provides work skills and and job opportunities for people. "It may be stuffing envelopes; it may be putting little things in little boxes, but they're gainfully employed, and that's raising their impression of themselves."

C.L.A.S.S. started out in 1976 with eight local trainees. Now the organization serves 150 people from the area and even provides busing for those who need the transportation.

"They have a staff that is outstanding," Hempe said. "They have programs that go on there daily — from basic skills, like how to tie a shoelace, to work activity skills and transitional employment skills."

Hempe got involved in the organization because he was so impressed by what it accomplishes. "I believe business people in the community

Family Dealership Gives Customers Individual Attention

Approximately 50 years ago, Fred "Tokie" Jaffarian opened an automobile dealership in the Merrimack Valley. He worked hard at his business and at developing a reputation for selling fine cars at fair prices.

Now, in 1988, Jaffarian Volvo-Toyota is the biggest Volvo and Toyota dealership in the Valley. Granted, cars have changed a lot over the last 50 years; so have car dealerships.

But, even now, Richard J. Jaffarian and his sons, Gary, Paul and Mark, work hard to maintain the reputation earned by their father/grandfather — a reputation built upon an admittedly old-fashioned idea, that people are individuals, not numbers.

Of course, quality, class and advanced technology give Jaffarian's Volvo and Toyota products the power to speak for themselves. And yes, Jaffarian also sells solid, reconditioned used vehicles.

And they have leasing, daily rental, automobile parts, a body shop and full maintenance services. All that's important; all that has had a hand in making the business what it is today.

But it's the personal service that sets Jaffarian Volvo-Toyota apart — the personal service that, after nearly 50 years and three generations, has become a tradition.

Jaffarian Volvo-Toyota, 312 River St., Haverhill is open 8:30 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday to Thursday; 8:30 a.m. to 7 p.m. Friday; and 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday. Service hours are from 7:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday to Friday. The phone number is 686-0941.

Andover Trust (Continued from 2A)

"We plan to work very closely with individuals, their family members, attorneys and accountants to bring out the full benefits and flexibility of private trustee relationships," Needham said.

Individuals who wish to explore the advantages of the private trustee service may do so by calling 681-8879 to arrange a free introductory consultation.

Andover Trust Inc. was formed by Needham, who also serves as its president. Needham, a resident of Andover, is also president of R.B. Needham Advisory Corp., a local investment counseling firm. He is the former head of the trust department at Arlington Trust Co. of Lawrence and served as an investment officer in the trust department of Fleet National Bank.

He is a director of Kenneth Ives Associates, a Boston-based investment counseling firm. He is a member and past president of the Merrimack Valley Estate Planning Council, a member of the Boston Security Analysts Society and a chartered financial analyst.

Needham is a graduate of Dartmouth College and has a master's degree in business administration from the Amos Tuck School of Business Administration.

'Over the years, private trustee firms have managed and guided the investments of generation after generation of these families. It is our goal to provide this level of service, formerly available to only the very rich, to the residents of the Merrimack Valley.'

Robert B. Needham, president of Andover Trust Inc.

Rug Works is New England's premier maker of custom-designed hand-carved area rugs. Hand-carved rugs allows a person to add design and colors to floors without the expense of an Oriental rug.

Rug Works Makes Covering Your Floor An Art

What do you get when you combine experience, knowledge, creativity and art and add then floorcovering? Stephen Piercy and Jim McLean are seeing a winning combination at Rug Works, 51 S. Canal St. in Lawrence.

Stephen Piercy of 31 Pine St., former owner of Carpet Master, has been operating a carpet business in the Andovers for the past 15 years. He has joined together with McLean, who, for the past 12 years, has been in the flooring industry. Together, they feel they've opened the most complete carpet store in the Merrimack Valley.

Rug Works is first and foremost a full-service flooring store. With in-stock remnants and rolls and a great selection of special-order carpeting. Piercy and McClean handle every job from the dining room to the corporate board room, but that's where they just get started.

Rug Works is also New England's premier maker of custom-designed hand-carved area rugs. Hand-carved rugs are the newest style in floorcovering. It allows a person to add design and colors to his or her floors without the expense of an Oriental rug.

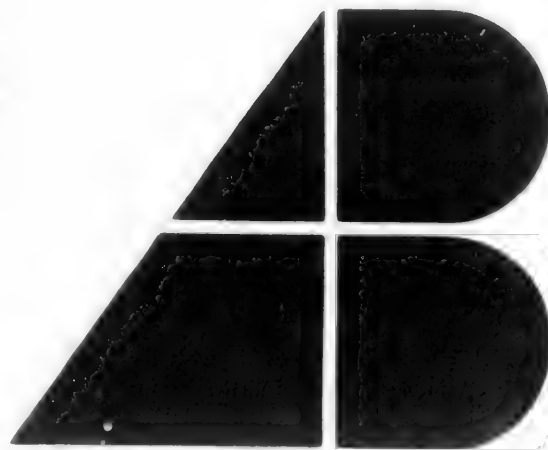

Rug Works rugs can also be made oversized to install wall to wall.

When it comes to design and color, the possibilities are endless. From borders to abstracts to florals to corporate logos, each design is made to suit the needs of the client.

The flooring industry is changing. Carpeting is becoming much more of a fashion product than it used to be with new colors, styles and patterns. It's Rug Works' job to be creative and help customers select the right carpet and buy with confidence.

Commitment

Andover Bank has been providing financial services to the Merrimack Valley for more than six generations. Along the way, we've grown with the many communities we serve. Today, Andover Bank has over 200 employees serving 90,000 accounts and managing more than $600 million in assets. We're grateful for the confidence and support we've enjoyed these many years. And, we're proud that our commitment to quality service remains the hallmark of Andover Bank.

Thompson's: Sundor Plant Adding Juice Products

Two Stores In One

Thompson's, 45 Main St., is two stores in one.

The lower level is a completely stocked office and school supply center. Everything from paper clips and file folders to file cabinets and office chairs is available. And special orders may also be made. There are monthly sales on supplies — a real bonus for customers.

The first floor is a complete social expression center offering the perfect gift for any occasion. The giftware section includes Baldwin brass items, fine leather goods, C.R. Gibson albums, diaries and guest books, stationery and many other unusual gifts, especially those featuring "age-related" themes.

Attractive partyware is always available, along with a full line of colonial candles. Hallmark cards and giftwrap tie it all together.

Both levels combine to offer Thompson's customers friendly, helpful service in a pleasant shopping atmosphere.

You may shop Thompson's Monday through Thursday from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m., Friday from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. and Saturday from 8:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m.

The Speas Farm line of regional branded apple juice products has been acquired from the Sawyer Fruit and Vegetable Cooperative Corp. by Sundor Group Inc., through Sundor Brands, an operating subsidiary. Sundor is a growth-oriented specialty beverage corporation headquartered in Darien, Conn. The Speas Farm manufacturing plant is located in Fremont, Mich.

Employees of Sundor Group's beverage facility in Lawrence were told of the development at a briefing session by Bob Brooks, operations manager.

"The Speas Farm apple juice line is a very strong consumer item and one with extensive potential. We are excited also about the opportunities for Speas Farm brand line extensions, for new products and for expansion into new markets," Brooks said at the briefing for the men and women of the Sundor workforce.

With the Speas Farm apple juice brand acquisition, Sundor renews its dedication to aggressive growth as part of a program carefully structured to broaden its beverage lines. Speas Farm branded products include 100 percent apple juice, apple-cherry apple-grape juices, a 10 percent fruit punch line as well as cinnamon flavored and cherry flavored ciders.

Sundor plans to handle the Speas Farm brand as a product line similar to its existing Sunny Delight, Lincoln and Texsun brands. The Speas Farm apple juice plant will continue to function as a producing location similar to Sundor's other plants.

Because both companies are privately held, no sales, earnings or acquisition cost figures were disclosed in simultaneous briefing announcements here and at other Sundor facilities and at Speas Farm. However, Brooks cited Sundor Group management projections that combined annual sales of Sunny Delight, Lincoln and Winter Hill, Texsun and, now, the Speas Farm apple juice line, should be at the rate of about $200 million for 1988.

"With aggressive marketing and the broker support for which Sundor is famous, as well as the Speas Farm addition, I can tell you that we expect significant new sales growth," Brooks concluded, quoting Sundor Group president and chief executive James F. Pomroy.

Sundor Brands Inc. is the sales and marketing arm of Sundor Group Inc., a specialty beverage company headquartered in Darien, Conn. Among its products are the Sunny Delight line of refrigerated, frozen and septic fruit punches and nectars and Sunny Coolers, Lincoln brand juices and drinks and Winter Hill all-natural juices and the Texsun line of juice products, including Texsun pink grapefruit juice, white grapefruit juice, orange, orange-pineapple and pineapple-grapefruit juices.

Hunneman Chosen To Be Sotheby's Affiliate

John McCusker, Hunneman & Co. Realtors vice president and sales manager of its Andover office, announced the selection of Hunneman Realtors as the exclusive affiliate for Sotheby's International Realty in eastern Massachusetts and parts of southern New Hampshire.

The selection marks only the second time an individual real estate firm has been chosen to represent Sotheby's in a major metropolitan market.

"The selection of Hunneman by Sotheby's is really the formalization and major expansion of a relationship which has been ongoing with several Hunneman offices for over 10 years. The demonstrated compatibility of a Sotheby/Hunneman marketing effort is unique in the industry. It is a tremendous opportunity for us in Andover to receive national recognition and to be able to utilize not only the Hunneman network of 450 sales associates in 35 residential offices, but now we can utilize Sotheby's national and international contacts," McCusker said.

Commenting from New York,

Charles D. Atwood, president and CEO of Sotheby's International Realty, cited Hunneman's well established track record for marketing properties throughout New England. "We selected Hunneman because of its thorough familiarity with the New England market and its established reputation of personalized service and aggressive marketing," he said.

Neil D. Lyon, Hunneman vice president, regional director and director of Hunneman/Sotheby Relations, saw the Hunneman/Sotheby affiliation as the culmination of a number of economic factors affecting the region.

"The emergence of Boston as a center of influence has created a need in New England to redefine how to market a prestigious or unique property. The tremendous appreciation in real estate values and the growing sophistication in the market place has created a need in New England to develop marketing programs which require special merchandising skills already being successfully utilized in other parts of the country," he said.

Mid-City Lights Up Life

One of the area's largest inventories of indoor and outdoor lighting may be found at Mid-City Supply.

Conveniently located at 92 Broadway, Route 28, in Lawrence, Mid-City has served the lighting needs of the Merrimack Valley for more than 25 years.

On display in their newly-decorated showroom are indoor and outdoor fixtures, table and floor lamps, ceiling fans and bath cabinets. Mid-City is the area's authorized distributor for Stiffel, Quoizel, Fredrick Ramond, Juno and Casablanca.

In addition to their vast array of lighting and decorative accessories, Mid-City carries a complete line of artist materials for both professional and beginner. Also, there is a complete custom picture-framing department on the premises.

In addition to the Lawrence store, branch locations called The Fan Outlet specialize in ceiling fans and track lighting. They are in Nashua, N.H. on Route 101A and Plaistow, N.H. on Route 125.

The company is owned and operated by Mitchell Korbey, Jr. and George Feeney. Mid-City holds membership in the Greater Lawrence Chamber of Commerce, the American Home Lighting Industry and the Northeast Homebuilders, National Art Materials Trade and Professional Picture Framers associations.

Energy Department Funds New England Power Study

New England Power Service Co., the service subsidiary of New England Electric System, is participating in one of several studies being funded through grants from the Department of Energy.

The NEES subsidiary is co-sponsoring the Northeast Region Demand-Side Management Data Exchange in cooperation with New York State Electric & Gas Corp. and other energy-oriented groups. The NORDAX grant of $75,000 is the largest of 14 grants issued by the DOE.

According to Lydia M. Pastuszek, director of demand planning for the utility, "NORDAX will focus both on the cost and effectiveness of energy conservation and of programs designed to reduce the demand for electricity on peak days. Through the NORDAX project, we will evaluate technologies that reduce the cost of supplying energy or improve energy efficiency for consumers."

As part of the NORDAX project, a regional organization will be developed to continue the exchange of information about demand-side management and least-cost utility programs.

In total, NORDAX will cost approximately $340,000, of which NEES companies will provide $10,000 in cash and other resources.

Among the other organizations participating in the NORDAX project are

New York State Electric & Gas Corporation, Alliance to Save Energy, Brookhaven National Laboratory, Central Hudson Gas & Electric Corporation, Central Maine Power Company, Consolidated Edison Company of New York, Consumer Energy Council of America, Edison Electric Institute, Electric Power Research Institute, Lawrence Berkeley Laboratory, Long Island Lighting Company, National Sierra Club, New England Power Pool, New York City Energy & Telecommunications, New York Power Pool, New York State Public Service Commission, Niagara Mohawk Power Corp., Northeast Utilities, New York State Energy Office, New York State Energy Research and Development Authority, Orange and Rockland Utilities Inc. and Rochester Gas & Electric Corp.

Both DOE research projects will help provide better conservation and load management programs for NEES' retail subsidiaries, Massachusetts Electric, Narragansett Electric and Granite State Electric in New Hampshire, and their customers. These companies currently offer a wide range of incentive programs for more than one million customers, including energy-efficient lighting rebates, water heater rebates and wraps, storage cooling and shared savings programs.

E.S.B. Provides State-Of-The-Art Service

For the past 20 years, E.S.B. Electronic Services in Billerica has been providing state-of-the-art repairs on all audio and video products to New England. Products such as amplifiers, cassette decks, CDs, TVs, projection TVs, VCRs, video cameras and video camcorders (all formats VHS, C, 8 mm).

E.S.B. is an authorized warranty repair station for 60 different manufacturers, so any brand you have can probably be serviced there. Its five locations in the New England area means you're never too far away from one of its facilities.

E.S.B.'s 40 technicians are thoroughly trained and highly skilled in all areas of audio/video repairs. E.S.B. also has road service, which means a technician can be sent right to your home. What a convenience.

The parts department also has many of those hard-to-find parts in stock, such as remote controls and replacement antennas.

E.S.B. is always looking for new ways to make it easier on the consumer. One such innovative idea is New England's first preferred Service Card. The silver edition, for only $19.95, gives you a lot of benefits — benefits such as 15 percent off any repair, one free cleaning of any tape system, a 1-800 help line to answer your service questions, 48-hour diagnostic check to determine your unit's problem and, most importantly, free estimates on the cost of your repair.

E.S.B. is also a factory warehouse for General Electric and RCA, so you can save hundreds of dollars off the regular prices of TVs, VCRs, projection TVs and video camcorders.

So stop by E.S.B. today to have your unit repaired or buy a new one.

Psychological Center Offers New Programs

Joseph Cotton, executive director of The Psychological Center in Lawrence, recently announced that the agency will open offices in Andover-North Andover in the spring and offer new programs.

In addition to traditional therapy services, The Psychological Center will offer specialized programs designed to help people recognize and reduce the amounts of stress they are experiencing. Data from the National Institutes of Health and medical texts indicate that as many as 80 percent of doctor's office visits for physical problems are stress-related. The anxiety disorder known as "panic attacks" affects 13 million Americans annually and costs business and the health care industry more than $250 million annually.

The personal cost of stress is also high. Stress-related symptoms include depression, fatigue, physical pain, stomach problems, irritability, loss of concentration and difficulty with interpersonal relationships.

The Psychological Center staff will utilize their extensive experience in working with stress-related problems and will employ clinical strategies to help people gain new skills and mastery over difficult personal and professional life situations.

The center will offer employee assistance programs to business and industry, designed to assist employees in enhancing job performance, reducing absenteeism and eliminating drug and alcohol use in the workplace. The program also provides for the training of managers and supervisors in the identification and referral of troubled employees.

The center's decision to open new offices was based on an increase in requests for services from residents in the Andover-North Andover area.

Audi Introduces Two New Vehicle Lines

Audi of America Inc. is introducing two brand-new vehicle lines with its 1988 Audi 80, 80 Quattro and Audi 90 and 90 Quattro models.

These are the first new automobiles Audi has introduced in America since 1983. With them, Audi enters a new strata of performance European automobiles. They incorporate significant developments in aerodynamics, powertrain, ergonomics and luxury and adopt the European 80 and 90 nomenclature.

The 1988 Audi 80 succeeds the highly acclaimed and successful Audi 4000 series. The sporty Audi 90 series will compete directly with Europe's new lines of sports sedans. The Audi 90 offers levels of luxury and appointments comparable to the Audi 5000 but available in a smaller, sportier package.

Like the Audi 5000 series, the steel body shell on all Audi 80 and 90 models is fully zinc-galvanized on both sides. This makes Audi the only passenger sedan manufacturer to offer full galvanized steel bodies on its complete line. A 27-step paint process and the fully galvanized body enable Audi to offer a six-year, no-mileage-restriction corrosion perforation limited warranty on all of its models.

The new Audi 80 and 90 body design is among Audi's most aerodynamic ever, resulting in less wind noise and reduced driver and passenger fatigue. A raked windshield, flush window glass, aerodynamic headlights and body-integrated door handles help produce impressive aerodynamic numbers.

The Audi 80 produces a drag coefficient of just 0.31 Cd, while the Audi 90 sports a 0.33 Cd. Both the Audi 80 and 90 Quattros register a draft coefficient of 0.32 Cd.

The aerodynamic Audi 80 and 90 Quattros also boast advanced traction and road-handling capabilities with enhancements in Audi's industry-leading, all-wheel-drive Quattro system. Most significant is the addition of a TORSEN center differential.

Using a worm-gear system, the TORSEN differential automatically and instantly distributes torque between the front and rear wheels. These are the first passenger cars in America with all-wheel-drive to use the TORSEN differential.

The new Audi 80 and 90 models feature a newly developed five-speed manual transmission. It is virtually maintenance-free with a lifetime fill of synthetic gear lubricant which reduces internal friction and power loss. For the driver, shifting is light and precise thanks to short shift travel and relocated shift selector pivot points.

An advanced four-cylinder two-liter engine was developed for the Audi 80 and Audi 90 automatic models. It has a 0.2-liter increase in displacement over the previous four-cylinder engine thanks to a larger bore and longer stroke. It produces 108 horsepower (SAE Net) at 5,300 RPM and an impressive 121-foot pounds of torque at 3,200 RPM.

Standard on the 1988 Audi 80 Quattro, 90 and 90 Quattro models is Audi's proven five-cylinder, 2.3 liter powerplant currently available in the Audi 5000 line. This sophisticated engine develops 130 horsepower at 5,700 RPM and accelerates these cars from zero to 60 miles per hour in 8.5 seconds.

The luxurious, all-new interior of the Audi 80 and Audi 90 is Audi's most contemporary expression of integrated design. The new wrap-around instrument panel has easy-to-read instruments and gauges located for maximum visibility.

Switches and controls are conveniently located, allowing the driver to concentrate fully on the road. Full leather upholstery is standard in the Audi 90 and 90 Quattro. New fully adjustable seats in all models give passengers high levels of comfort and convenience.

The Anti-Lock Braking System (ABS) is standard on the Audi 90 and 90 Quattro and available as an option on the Audi 80 Quattro. In adverse or emergency braking situations ABS helps prevent wheel lockup, giving the driver strong braking performance while helping maintain steering control.

Carroll Designs Combines Studios' Expertise

Carroll Designs is a joint venture between two North Shore design studios. Each has its own strengths, and together they form a complete portfolio of design capabilities to satisfy a variety of clients.

Alan David Carroll of 19 Elm Court and Peter P. Beach of Newburyport have decided to merge their talents in one business that offers a wide range of design services.

Carroll, the owner, brings 10 years of drafting and design experience in structural and mechanical designing, steel detailing and technical illustrating.

Carroll's been involved in architectural design for eight years and has worked on new homes, additions and renovations in cooperation with homeowners and contractors.

His business also provides steel design, detailing, fabrication and installation for residential and light industrial construction projects.

Carroll, who received an associates degree in architectural engineering technology at the Franklin Institute of Boston in 1977, knows what he's talking about.

His work for Cygna Energy Services in Boston

since 1981 has given him the experience of a designer draftsman. He has wide experience in drafting support for structural electrical and mechanical groups, as well as graphics, ink drafting, Kroy lettering, stat camera works, charts and graphs.

Carroll was also a structural draftsman at Camp, Dresser & McKee in Boston for three years and at Lemessurier Associate in Cambridge for one.

His partner, Beach, who owns PBeach Illustration in Newburyport, also has an impressive work and educational background.

Beach offers 13 years of professional experience working in a variety of styles and applications. Specializing in top quality technical line art for consumer products and instruction manuals, Beach has worked on projects ranging from engineering and architectural to publishing and manufacturing environments.

In addition, Beach offers corporate and commercial graphic designs and photography for use in brochures and mailers or as logos.

Beach's design studio is complete with fax machine for instant transmittal of sketches and photographs and a graphics darkroom, with stat camera, processor and dryer.

1981 was a red-letter year for Beach, who took first place for best illustration in both the New England and Massachusetts press associations competitions that year. He won second place for best illustration in the New England Press Association competition in 1982.

Beach studied architectural technology at Miami-Dade Community College in Miami, Fla., where he graduated in 1976 and commercial illustration at the Art Institute of Boston from 1979 to '80. He has taken various art classes at the Cambridge Adult Education Center.

The staff of Carroll Designs may be reached at 475-1486.

Colings Proud Of 9-Year-Old Business

Village Carpet Has Large Inventory

Andover residents Charlie and Linda Colings are very proud of their family-owned business.

Village Carpet has been in the same location, 299 Salem St. in Reading, for more than nine years. In that short amount of time, the Colings have expanded their floor space three times to accommodate the largest in-stock inventory in this area.

"When you buy direct from the factories, you are able to pass on the savings to the customers," Mr. Colings says.

Village Carpet has 50 years of combined experience in no-pressure sales and service. Installations are provided by craftsmen in the field with customer satisfaction a priority.

The Colings invite you to come and see their extensive line of Oriental, contemporary and braided rugs and to choose from hundreds of styles and remnants.

The floor surfaces of your kitchen and bath are not forgotten at Village Carpet, which has many linoleum and no-wax floors to pick from.

Come, relax and shop.

Find Lasting Floral Arrangements At Boutique Toni's

Toni Meli and Karen Ippolito had a dream. It materialized this past summer with the opening of Boutique Toni at 2 Elm Square in the Musgrove Building.

For years Boutique Toni offered silk flora to the Merrimack Valley, but the time had come to broaden the concept and offer the area something it didn't have.

The new store offers its patrons custom-designed floral arrangements, plants, trees, home accessories and interior landscaping services. All the flora and greenery is silk — and only the finest materials are used. Whether it is a colonial bouquet or an exotic contemporary arrangement, every style and decor is offered.

They carry an excellent supply of vases, baskets, planters and ceramic and brass containers, but will gladly work with a customer's piece as well.

Weddings in silk are another popular service offered by Boutique Toni. Lasting memories and perfect flowers cost no more than fresh flowers, and there is never a question about the quality, design or what is waiting for the bridal party on that special day. Boutique Toni's complimentary throw-a-away bou-quet ensures the bride that she will have her bouquet for years to come.

Interior landscaping for both residential and commercial clients is a specialty of Boutique Toni. Beginning with a call to the premises, Meli or Ippolito will plan out a complete, finished look, while working with the client to incorporate personal taste into the setting.

Silk flora and greenery are truly life-like and virtually maintenance-free. All trees have real bark trunks and have fooled more than one plant-lover. The floral arrangements and plants are all made at the store to the customer's satisfaction and taste. There is no reason to settle for second best. The finished product from Boutique Toni reflects the person or business involved — be it flashy or understated.

The owners also felt there was a need for a place that carried an exceptional line of accessories. They have a fine selection of travertine marble pieces, book ends, bowls, plates, jars and also very beautiful travertine and polished marble lamps. There are hand-carved wood pieces, fabric birds to hang from a ceiling and many different baskets to plant in or fill with whatever.

Village Carpet has been in the same location, 299 Salem St. in Reading, for more than nine years. The owners have expanded their floor space three times to accommodate the largest in-stock inventory in this area.

Boutique Toni has pedestals and mirrors in brass, lacquer, marble and wood to fill a space or complete a look. The boutique also has paintings to complement any decor.

Service, quality and artistic originality are the cornerstones of Boutique Toni. The owners take great pride in their business and reputation. Both residential and commercial customers are valued.

Twenty years in business have only increased Boutique Toni's desire to give the very best to each and every customer.

Regan Ford Gives Honest Deals, No Gimmicks

Shopping for a car can be like haggling with a merchant in some primitive marketplace.

You bargain; he bargains. You threaten; he throws in a gimmick or two. And in the end, you often end up with a lemon for which you paid more than the going price.

That's not the case at Regan Ford.

Regan Ford, 501 Broadway in Haverhill, offers its customers a refreshing change from the games other dealers might play. A civilized dealership that has known three generations of family ownership and more than 43 years of service in the Merrimack Valley, Regan Ford gives you honest prices — without gimmicks.

At Regan Ford, the newly-doubled lot holds a huge inventory of fine Ford cars and trucks. Not one of them carries an "additional dealer markup" sticker on its window. Dealer preparation charges? Additional transportation charges? They're non-existent.

Regan Ford considers the customer — and his repeat business — the most important part of every transaction. This attitude extends beyond the company's new Ford products. It shows in Regan Ford's guarantee of 100 percent special financing and manufacturer's extended guarantees, available on most of the more than 100 quality used cars and trucks on their lot.

It covers the selling of Ford parts and the expertise of Regan Ford's team of experienced technicians, who give their customers the best in body work and general maintenance. Any car or part purchase, any work done, is considered by Regan Ford to be a special transaction they must stand behind.

Regan Ford also offers a car and a rental fleet of more than 60 new, fully-equipped vehicles. Insurance rentals? Vacation rental packages? Regan has them. They also carry three national car and truck leasing programs and have very attractive leasing packages that may be structured on any make or model, from a new Ford Taurus to a new BMW 325.

In short, Regan Ford has your car, truck or van. No gimmicks and markups. No haggling. No overpriced lemons. Just good, solid quality cars and service at reasonable prices — the sort of stock and service that's been bringing customers back for more than 43 years.

Color enlargements up to 11 by 14 inches are made right in the store's own laboratory. Complete color and custom black and white print services are done on the premises, and one-hour and same-day color print service is available.

Andover Photo also has a portrait studio in Dundee Park, where experienced photographers take traditional and non-traditional portraits. They take children's, brides', graduates' and publicity photos, as well as pictures for special events. They are available for on-location shooting.

Should you need a passport or identification photo, walk-in service is available.

Andover Photo also stocks supplies for the novice and professional photographer. The store sells professional films, camera equipment and accessories, dark room supplies, bulbs, batteries and frames. It also carries telescopes and binoculars.

Fabric Town Has All Your Sewing Needs

Looking for that perfect button to go on the blouse you're making? Need just the right shade of yellow for your kitchen curtains? Want advice on sewing a straight hem?

You can find practically all of your sewing and home-decorating needs at Fabric Town on Route 28 in Reading.

Going into their 25th year, Fabric Town has grown to more than 16,000 square feet full of fabrics, patterns, notions and trims displayed in an easy-to-find order. Fabric Town also carries one of the largest supplies of drapery and upholstery hardware.

The newly-modernized building still has an entrance to the original Fabric Town store, which holds more than 10,000 square feet of fabrics on one selling floor. The new sales floor has everything set up so that decorators can quickly see selections of decorator fabrics for draperies slip covers, reupholstery, shades, blinds, custom-made table pad covers, radiator covers and all drapery hardware. The store also carries a complete in-stock wallpaper section specializing in wallcoverings to match the decorator fabrics.

Experienced decorators are always on hand to address your home-decorating problems, along with Fabric Town's free home decorating service. Fabric Town can help you do it yourself or will be happy to do the complete project for you in their own workrooms.

Fabric Town boasts the largest selection of in-stock fabrics under one roof from such famous mills as Waverly, Schumacher, Greeff, Strahn, Duralee, Bloom, Wolf and most other quality fabric manufacturers — all at low, low prices.

The store's services don't stop there. The same friendly service you receive in Fabric Town's original store is also available in its Home Decoration Center.

A new "Instant Sewing Shop" has been added at Fabric Town for the busy woman whose time is limited but still wants to design her own fashions.

Ada Aucella, manager of the bridal department, says she's seen a lot of growth in her department, which services the bride and her party.

The bridal department gets assistance from Fabric Town's New York office, which enable Reading to get the latest designer fabrics.

Catering to the needs of the home-sewer, along with the needs of tailors, teachers and other professionals, Fabric Town sells on both a wholesale and a retail basis at a discount. Quality and selection have been the store's chief product and reason for growth.

Customers from all over the United States, Canada, Bermuda and Chile have visited or written to obtain samples or purchase the best in fashion fabrics. Slovin says he gets letters of appreciation from customers all the time. He keeps a scrapbook full of them — from corporations like RCA and Cahners Publishing Co. to organizations like the Reading Board of Selectmen to the woman who lives down the street.

Fabric Town employs 30 sales people all together, in addition to the many more people who work in its custom workrooms as installers, slip-cover cutters and upholsterers. "We're very fortunate to have a tremendous number of talented people working for us."

Even if you think you're all thumbs when it comes to sewing, Fabric Town can still serve you. The basement store on Chapin Avenue, which can be entered through either store or the parking lot, houses a classroom for sewing lessons, featuring certified home economist Ruth Ann Haley, who is teaching beginner to advance sewing.

No matter how big or small your sewing problem, help is always available at Fabric Town.

"When we first started more than 25 years ago," Mel Slovin said, "if a customer came in and asked for something we didn't have, we went out of our way to get it for her next time."

That basic philosophy still holds true. "People come in when they have problems," Slovin said. "They know they can count on us to make decisions and take action immediately."

Slovin is proud of that. "If you talk to me, I'll tell you we're the best," he said. "We're family-owned and -run, and our business keeps growing because we always did and always will continue to serve our customers personally."

"We carry all kinds of things. We're not interested in how many we're going to sell. We're interested in what our customers want."

Fabric Town is open 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday to Friday and 9 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Saturday. Their telephone number is 944-6996 for dress fabrics and notions and 944-8766 for the Home Decorating Service.

(located on the grounds of Bon Secours Hospital)

Merrimack Valley MRI Inc. Opens Doors

Recognizing the needs of area patients and physicians, Merrimack Valley MRI Inc. recently completed development of a Magnetic Resonance Imaging facility adjacent to Bon Secours Hospital in Methuen. This facility, which is now fully operational, required a special design and construction to house a high-field General Electric MRI device.

Development of a modern, free-standing MRI facility has allowed the inclusion of patient waiting and physician support areas which will ensure patient privacy and clinical efficiency.

This facility was developed by Merrimack Valley MRI, Inc., a medical group consisting of area neurosurgeons, neurologists and specialists in rehabilitation medicine. Working closely with area health care and other physician groups, Merrimack Valley MRI, Inc. opened its doors in late December after more than three years of planning.

Dr. Howard M. Gardner, an Andover neurosurgeon and president of Merrimack Valley MRI, Inc., noted that, "This project is the culmination of a 3½ year joint effort by our group and other health care providers to bring needed MRI services to the Merrimack Valley. MRI represents one of the great medical breakthroughs of this century, ranking with x-ray and antibiotics."

Gardner and his group have been instrumental in bringing a variety of diagnostic imaging services, including CT scanning, to the Merrimack Valley over the past 10 years.

Magnetic Resonance Imaging is a highly sophisticated form of diagnostic imaging. Without the use of potentially harmful X-rays, physicians can clearly view internal organs and structures. Images can be taken in any direction without

Three Firms Occupy Wilmington Technology Park

Laboratory Technologies, Corp., Home Intensive Care, Inc. and T.T.I., Inc. have leased a total of 18,000 square feet at 100 and 400 Research Drive in Wilmington Technology Park in Wilmington. Meredith & Grew, Inc., the Boston-based full service real estate company, negotiated the three transactions.

With the occupancy of Home Intensive Care and T.T.I. at 100 Research Drive, the 109,000-square-foot, single-story building is now 86 percent leased. Laboratory Technologies joins tenant United Shoe Machinery Corporation at 400 Research Drive.

"We were with the Tambone Corporation (developer) in our previous facility in Woburn and found them to be very thorough," said Philip J. Mazzola, general manager of T.T.I. "They found the perfect new location for us here in Wilmington."

Wilmington Technology Park, located on Ballardvale Street, will consist of six one- and two-story buildings totaling 735,000 square feet on an 85-acre site. The park is bordered by the Wilmington town forest to the north.

"We are pleased to have the diversity of tenants now present at Wilmington Technology Park," said John W. Filbin, executive vice president, Property Management/Leasing of the Tambone Corporation. "This demonstrates the broad appeal of the park."

The Tambone Corp. is a developer of office, R&D and industrial real estate with projects in Massachusetts and Florida. Founded in 1947, the firm's in-house capabilities include development, financing, design, construction, leasing and property management.

Meredith & Grew Senior Vice President David L. Pergola and Peter D. Mackie represented Tambone Corp. in the transactions. Meredith & Grew is the exclusive leasing agent of Wilmington Technology Park.

Transistor's 40th Anniversary

The transistor, an invention which inaugurated and continues to define the electronic age, recently celebrated its 40th anniversary.

Invented at AT&T Bell Laboratories on December 23, 1947, the transistor replaced the vacuum tube amplifier and provided a tiny, reliable and relatively inexpensive substitute for the relays in electromechanical telephone exchanges.

The transistor ushered in the "solid-state revolution," spawned today's worldwide semiconductor electronics industry and made possible dramatic changes in communications, computing, entertainment, medicine, space exploration and a host of other fields.

Perhaps the most far-reaching impact, however, has been in communications. Modern communications networks would not be possible, in fact, without the transistor. As key components in telephones, computers (PCs to mainframes), private branch exchanges (PBXs), electronic central offices, communications satellites, terrestrial microwave radio relay systems and undersea and terrestrial cable systems, transistors underlie every aspect of worldwide communications today.

The next evolutionary step in telecommunications will be the Integrated Services Digital Network (ISDN), a new network interconnection standard that will permit voice, data and video information to be transmitted in digital form as easily as today's networks handle voice traffic.

The building blocks of intelligence in today's and tomorrow's ISDN networks, integrated circuits, computers on chips, solid-state digital switches and a variety of other stored-program machines, would not exist without the transistor.

The transistor also led scientists to explore the optical and electrical properties of solid-state materials. Early discoveries at Bell Labs include solar cells and solid-state lasers.

Today, lightwave technology, the use of particles of light to carry information, is transforming worldwide telecommunications. Cables made of optical fiber criss-cross the nation and are being installed under both the Atlantic and Pacific oceans. Optical data links connect advanced electronic systems. Optical distribution systems cut the cost of bringing advanced services to fast-growing suburban areas.

moving the patient. These images are produced through complex technology employing high magnetic fields, radio-waves and computer reconstruction.

MRI is safe and painless. There are no harmful effects of any kind; no x-rays are involved and nothing is injected into the patient.

This procedure is done on an outpatient basis and in many cases may make other more invasive tests unnecessary.

MRI devices vary in their magnetic field strength, depending upon the manufacturer. Merrimack Valley MRI, Inc. has chosen a General Electric device which is the most powerful FDA-approved MRI device sold. The features of the General Electric MRI device allow it to produce diagnostic images which are recognized as an industry standard.

MRI is the diagnostic modality of choice for assessing a variety of neurological diseases, including multiple sclerosis and back conditions, such as disc disorders.

'Magnetic Resonance Imaging is a highly sophisticated form of diagnostic imaging. Without the use of potentially harmful X-rays, physicians can clearly view internal organs and structures. Images can be taken in any direction without moving the patient. These images are produced through complex technology employing high magnetic fields, radiowaves and computer reconstruction.'

Peggie Ritzer

Ritzer Awarded For CPA Exam

Peggie L. Ritzer, supervising senior on the staff at Moody, O'Sullivan and Co., North Andover, has been awarded certificate number 11,282 by the Board of Public Accountancy of Massachusetts.

This certificate acknowledges her successful completion of all four parts of the uniform CPA examination and the fulfillment of the mandatory three years of public experience. Ritzer graduated from Fitchburg State College with a bachelor's degree in business administration in May 1983. She is furthering her education at Bentley College where she is enrolled in the master's in taxation program.

Moody, O'Sullivan and Co., a firm of certified public accountants in North Andover and Manchester, N.H., is a member of the private companies practice section of the division for firms of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants devoting substantial time to the needs of small and medium-size organizations.

Transistor

Experimental optical switches already operate at speeds measured in picoseconds (trillionths of a second), the time it takes light to traverse the period at the end of this sentence. Bell Laboratories physicists are currently experimenting with femtosecond speeds (one-quadrillionth of a second). Photonics technology could one day lead to a practical optical computer, 1,000 times more powerful than today's best supercomputers.

In materials and surface physics research, Bell Laboratories scientists have developed a process called Molecular Beam Epitaxy that layers different elements, atom by atom, onto a base surface to produce a totally new material. The MBE process has created substances like gallium arsenide that can perform functions impossible for silicon or any other single element. Many of today's state-of-the-art electronic and optoelectronic devices are made using MBE.

Biochemistry researchers at Bell Laboratories are building neural networks on chips that mimic the way some brain cells retrieve stored information and solve problems. In fact, some of these electronic neural networks perform better than their living counterparts.

Advanced Hair:

A Diverse Salon At Affordable Prices

Advanced Hair, Etc. has been called the ultimate hair salon, offering more than a quick in-and-out visit for a fast haircut.

Advanced Hair offers not only every kind of normal hair service, but also specialty services like reconstructing treatments for badly damaged hair from perms that were not done correctly. Corrective coloring for the person who has had a color or frosting somewhere and is not happy with it is also done.

Opened three months go, Advanced Hair has built an outstanding reputation as a full-service family-priced salon. Now open seven days a week, Advanced Hair caters to so many of today's working people who can not come in during regular hours, so the salon offers extended hours during the weeks, such as Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m., Saturday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sunday from noon to 6 p.m.

Along with convenient hours, Advanced Hair is most of all "family priced." So many people are used to throwing their money away at high-priced, high-pressured hair salons and so-called hair cutting factories.

Advanced Hair would like to invite anyone who hasn't been in yet to come and see what a spacious family-priced salon, with some of the most professional stylists in the business, can do for you and your family. Relax for a change while the staff serves you and enjoy the comfort, atmosphere and privacy of a salon designed with you, the client, in mind.

The best part is the economical prices.

"Some people who are paying $20 to $25 for haircuts and $60 to $75 for perms and frostings get into the habit of thinking these prices are normal. Believe me, these are not normal prices to be paying," says Pauline Martin, who, along with her husband, Jamie, are the owners of Advanced Hair. "We offer reasonable rates to the public, such as $10 haircuts. Perms start at $30 with the cut always included, $25 frostings and highlights, $14 colors and so on."

As long as the salon can offer economical prices and the highest quality to its clients, the owners will continue to do so, Martin said. "It's not right to over-charge just because you know someone will pay."

Advanced Hair also offers total skin care services with facials starting at $16, paraffin baths, hair removal with a revolutionary non-wax, all natural product that is painless.

All kinds of manicuring services, from manicures for $11 to pedicures for $20 and sculptured nails and tips for $45, are available.

The most unique service Advanced Hair has to offer is the New Image Salon System Computer. This is a revolutionary service where a professional stylist will guide you through a series of changes in your appearance right before your eyes. "Would you buy clothing without trying it on first? Why cut your hair without seeing it first? Now you can see yourself with exciting new cuts, new hair colors, complete new makeovers and seasonal color analysis. You can pick three new styles you want to see on yourself and the one you like the best, we will customize to your liking to the finest detail, all done in full color before your very eyes and give you a full color picture of you with your new style to take home with you and share with your friends and family," Martin said. This salon service takes between 30 and 60 minutes and costs only $18. And Advanced Hair is the only salon in New England with this computer.

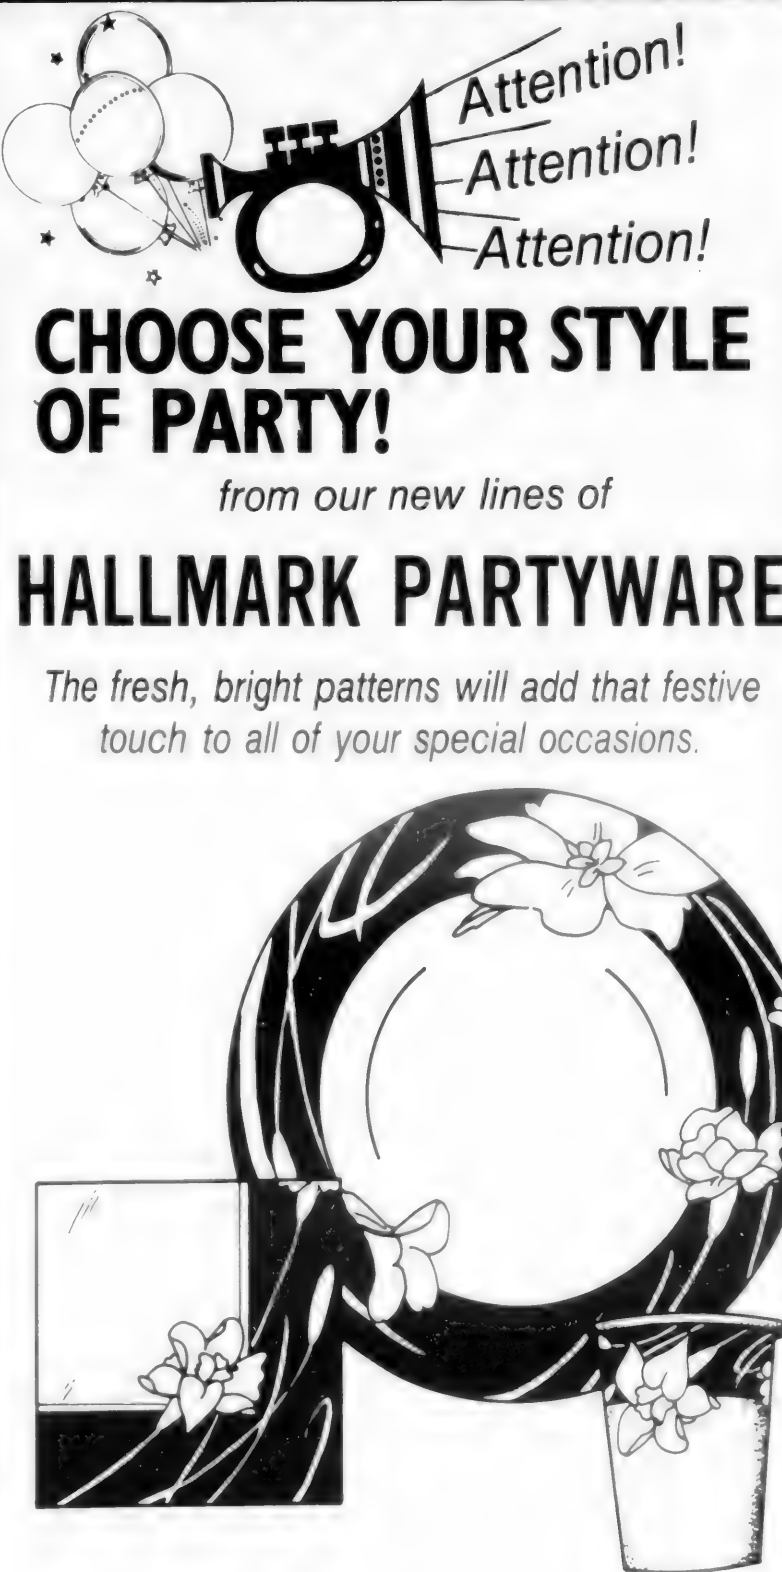

Advanced Hair also offers suntanning. Express Tan Sun Capsule is made for the sun-tanning enthusiasts who like to tan and be comfortable at the same time and features sweatless comfortable booths with AM-FM-cassette stereo with headphones and foot massage. Various memberships are available.

The owners of Advanced Hair Etc. would like to thank the faithful clients who come in every day and "bring a smile to our faces when they tell us how much they enjoy the salon."

"You people are the reason for the immediate success and quality this salon will continue to serve you with," Martin said. "We would like to also invite those of you who have not been in to come down and check out the salon and take a price list brochure home and compare. You will find that the atmosphere, prices and convenience of night-time hours and seven-days-a-week availability will be hard to resist."

Advanced Hair Etc is located at the junction of Routes 495 and 114 on the Lawrence-North Andover line, across from the Showcase Cinema in the new Stadium Plaza. Plenty of parking is always available.

Students won't miss a word when they take notes with a microcassette-recorder from Sony. The pocket-sized M-19V weighs just 7.4 ounces for easy transport to record lectures and meetings.

Tape Recorders Enhanced By Sony

Sony, the first company to offer a full line of dictation products around standard cassettes and to develop the microcassette recorder category, offers a broad line of competitively priced, full-featured tape recorders.

"We've been in this business for a long time and we feel that it is important to keep our ear to the marketplace to maintain our leadership position," said Yutaka Sato, director, General Audio Products, Sony Consumer Audio Products Division. "The spring '87 line represents our response to the need for future enhancements at lower prices."

The microcassette line has been completely redesigned to offer lower-priced VOR (Voice Operated Recording) models and a more consistent cosmetic design. Highlighting the new product introductions are:

The M-19V, Sony's first microcassette-recorder with a built-in rechargeable battery and a plug that slides out for direct recharging via an AC outlet. Two-speed VOR and a built-in flat microphone make the M-19V ideal for recording conferences and lectures as well as interviews. Its ultra-small size fits into a briefcase, pocketbook or even a shirt pocket for carrying ease.

The M-18V is Sony's first VOR microcassette to offer auto-reverse for convenient playback of both sides of the cassette without the need to turn it over. The M-18V provides added flexibility with one-touch recording at two speeds plus a built-in microphone and speaker for immediate playback. Auto shut-off prevents mechanical wear and a record/battery LED display lets the user see at a glance how well the microphone is picking up recorded material or the condition of the batteries during playback.

Five new models are being introduced in the Sony microcassette lineup, highlighted by the TCS-430 hand-held stereo unit. A built-in, one-point stereo microphone and one-touch recording eliminate the need to hook up an external microphone or to juggle with play and record buttons. On-the-spot edit provides gap-free playback through an internal speaker or with supplied lightweight MDR stereo headphones. Speed control permits slow or fast review of recorded material. A three-digit tape counter allows for indexing of specific portions on the tape.

Good Snow Conditions For Cross-Country Skiers

The New England area currently has the perfect snow conditions for avid and novice cross-country skiers alike. They are considered to be excellent and are expected to remain for the next few weeks.

For anyone just learning to cross-country ski, lessons are highly recommended by John Tidd, one of the top Nordic ski instructors in the United States. He is a member of the Professional Ski Instructors of America Nordic demonstration team.

"Basic instruction is important to show new skiers the benefits of developing the necessary skills of the sport," said Tidd. "The more quickly we can get a skier to feel comfortable with the basic skills of cross-country skiing, the more likely he or she will become a long-term participant and, hopefully, a lifetime skier."

Tidd will direct professional ski instructors giving group lessons at the Leaf Boston Ski Party Sunday, Feb. 7, at the Weston Ski Touring Center, Route 30, just west of Route 128, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Beginning skiers will go through a series of five lesson stations to learn the basics of cross-country skiing. Striding, climbing hills and negotiating downhill will be taught. Short distance races will be held for skiers who want to test their new skills.

Tidd also recommends lessons for self-taught skiers who may be putting out maximum efforts and actually experiencing minimum efficiency from their movements.

"Good technique is important because you have to learn how to get the most glide out of the ski for the least effort," he said. "Once you learn to glide, you can ski all day."

The second annual Leaf Boston Ski Party is a day of cross-country skiing and winter fun to attract new participants to the sport and to raise money for the Jimmy Fund, the fund-raising arm of the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute.

Leaf Inc., a leading candy manufacturer, has been a major sponsor of cross-country skiing in the United States. According to Erkki Railo, Leaf Inc.'s president and chief executive officer, "Leaf is combining its support for cross-country skiing and the Jimmy Fund in 1988 because we wanted to help other families."

The admission charge benefits the Jimmy Fund and includes the use of cross-country ski equipment, lessons, short-distance races, demonstrations by top area racers, equipment displays, entertainment, snow sculptures and a shuttle bus between the Riverview T-stop and Weston Ski Touring Center. The Jimmy Fund will run a food and beverage concession to benefit the organization.

"The beauty of the Leaf Boston Ski Party is that it gives people an excellent opportunity to gain entry to the sport in a very positive way," said Tidd.

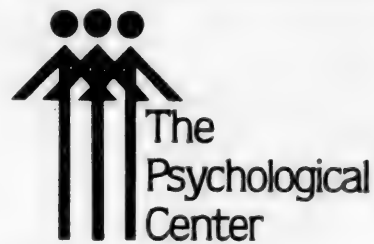

Weston Ski Touring Center and Ski Industries America are providing more than 1,000 pairs of skis, boots and poles in a variety of sizes. Equipment will be made available on a rotating basis to allow ample opportunity for everyone to get on the snow.

The Weston Ski Toring Center has easy and rolling terrain for skiers of all ability levels and is capable of making artificial snow to cover a 20-acre area, weather permitting.

Top skiers representing area high school cross-country ski teams will execute their winning styles in an exhibition race and be available to give pointers on technique.

Skiers with their own equipment are invited to take part in the activities. All participants should come dressed for skiing as locker space for storage of extra garments and handbags will not be available.

Leaf chose to sponsor cross-country skiing because the sport is enjoyable as a group or individual activity and provides the highest level of aerobic workout.

Four Seasons Helps Bring The Outdoors Inside

Four Seasons of Amesbury would like to thank all of its clients for making the first year in Amesbury a very successful one.

According to president Francis Porcelli, Amesbury provides easy access for the residential and commercial clients of the Merrimack Valley and its surrounding areas. The showroom, easily reached from Routes 495 or 95, is located on Route 110 in the new section of the Amesbury Plaza.

Solariums are no longer being sought as mere solar collectors, but are now looked upon as attractive living areas.

"Greenhouses can be used as any living space you wish," says Porcelli.

He cites the sun porch concept as the most popular but points out that he has had several requests for applications as living, dining and bedroom areas.

"It is even possible to completely change the feel of a current room with the addition of a three-foot extension along the length of it," he adds, "opening the whole area up to the feel and the brightness of the great outdoors."

A survey by "Remodeling World" magazine shows that 90 to 100 percent of the cost of adding a sunroom is typically recouped as a short-term recovery cost. Besides the energy efficiency, it's difficult to find a better way to add such a unique feature.

According to Fabian Arroyo, vice president of installations, the greenhouse is easy to maintain and is trouble-free. Arroyo, who as with the parent company in New York as head of installation training before his move to the Merrimack Valley, says, "When installation is properly completed, the greenhouse is a joy to have in any season." Four Seasons has engineered a completely thermally broken and absolutely leakproof product. "It's not easy to find such a quality product out there among all the different companies who have jumped on the bandwagon" he says.

The Four Seasons product line includes curved and straight style units in wood, white or bronze finishes. Heat Mirror insulation, an invisible innovation from Southwall Technologies, is an exclusive offering of the company for the potential solarium purchaser. Four Seasons also offers consultations and surveys at no cost, according to Porcelli, and is willing to assist the consumer in a careful examination of applications available for his or her needs.

"We are committed to supplying a quality product and expert installation to the Merrimack Valley community," he says.

Four Seasons Solar Products Corporation is headquartered in New York. Established over 10 years ago, the company has rapidly moved ahead of competition to become the number one supplier of greenhouses and solariums. Major improvements to the efficiency and design and dedicated engineering and marketing personnel are making the Four Seasons Greenhouse the choice for commercial and residential consumers.

In addition to the residential applications, restaurants, hospitals, retail stores, condominiums and industrial clients have all taken advantage of the benefits of the solar space for renovations and additions.

Four full-size models are currently set up in the Amesbury showroom.

Arouse the latent creativity of your entire family by adding a central control — an audio mixer — to your home entertainment center. It enables family members to combine LP, tape, CD, VCR and microphone outputs into one integrated program for tape replay or "real time" enjoyment.

'Ultimate' In Electronics

Lets You Direct

And Produce

A mixing control for the home entertainment center is a gift the entire family will enjoy. Better still, it can bring out the latent creativity of each family member, transforming passive listeners and viewers into active participants.

These new control centers are, in reality, "nerve centers" for the home entertainment array, making each component interactive, so you can combine their outputs into an integrated program.

The possibilities are endless. You can mix and fade sounds from one or two phono turntables, a VCR, TV set, tape deck, CD player, electronic keyboard and live sound pick-up from one or more microphones.

Making a personalized, professional-sounding "happy birthday" or "holiday greetings" cassette, for example, is easy. Or, you can pre-program an evening's listening from LP, cassette, VCR, AM/FM and CD sources.

Or produce a voice-over narration for a slide show with theme music background fading in and out on cue. Or insert music titles when dubbing onto cassettes. Or sing a duet with yourself.

The component that makes all this possible, a home audio mixer, can be found in many electronic stores and at highly-affordable prices, according to Ken Reichel, vice president of Audio-Technica, whose ATUS division is producing and marketing the mixers.

There are already four different ATUS mixer models on the market.

In choosing one, Reichel advises, match its capabilities to the uses you plan for it. The difference in price between the various models is based chiefly on the number of inputs each model will handle and the versatility of its functions.

At the upper end of the ATUS line, for example, is the AM500 which, in addition to handling two turntables, six stereo line sources and two microphones, also has left and right graphic equalizers.

The features offered by the other three models are not markedly different, though one offers echo and reverb effects, should you desire them.

Reichel counsels, "No matter which one you choose, you will quickly discover that it can magnify by many times the things you can do with your home electronics."

Cafe Burgundy Brings Elegance To Every Meal

A scene from Heritage Inn's Cafe Burgundy.

Hospitality is much more than a word at the Heritage Inn's Cafe Burgundy. It is the guiding force behind the impeccable service, the secret ingredient in the gourmet fare and the promise the staff keeps to everyone who enters the door.

The Cafe Burgundy is located within the elegant Heritage Inn Hotel at 10 Independence Drive in Chelmsford. Easy access to this hotel and restaurant makes it a convenient way to begin your luxurious breakfast, lunch or dinner. Exit 34 (Route 110-Chelmsford Street) off Route 495 brings you right to the door of the Heritage Inn.

You will enjoy the traditional elegance of the dining room, which reproduces the genteel charm of a bygone era. The Cafe Burgundy offers an intimate setting, quiet and very pleasant surroundings.

Executive chef George Norton, III joined the staff in November and has created many new items on the menu. Norton worked most recently as the executive chef at Boston Proper Restaurant at Exchange Place, Boston and Jason's in Boston. He is a graduate of the Culinary Institute of America.

The Cafe Burgundy offers a continental cuisine menu. Some of the new items Norton has added are lobster ravioli and Cajun blackened

Who Says Baseball Cards Are For Kids?

Sports Collectibles in Shawsheen Plaza caters to sports fans of all ages. It features baseball cards and sports memorabilia, plus an enormous selection of pro and college licensed sportswear and souvenirs.

Baseball cards can make you a small fortune. A 1983 Wade Boggs rookie card could be worth $28. Or a 1952 Mickey Mantle card, from the first set produced by the Topps Chewing Gum Co., lists for $3,500.

Al Forbes, who owns Sports Collectibles, got his start in the business at a collector's show approximately 10 years ago. He was offered $50 for his cards and soon started trading them at flea markets.

A year and a half went by, and he retired as a manager at Sears to open his Peabody Square store. His son, Michael, manages the Shawsheen Plaza store.

Customers come from all over Essex County for the unique finds at Forbes' store.

Michael Forbes, manager of Sports Collectibles in Shawsheen Plaza, with an employee in the store. Forbes' father, Al, founded the store when he discovered baseball cards and other sports memorabilia are worth a lot more than most people think.

Courtney's Collections Expands Sportswear

Courtney's Collections, located at 39 Main St., under the ownership of Lee and Dee Zolner, will be starting its fifth year in May.

During 1987 Dee Zolner expanded the sportswear department and added new lines such as Kikit, Outlander, Jones New York, Ultima and Crossings. For 1988 she has once again selected several new lines of clothing which are due in the store within the next several weeks.

With so many new contemporary designers on the market, Mrs. Zolner felt she would incorporate some of these into her present sportswear department and continue her expansion.

Courtney's Collections will continue in 1988 to bring you more and more unique and specialty items from other departments, such as lingerie, with lines such as Calvin Klein, which was just acquired in the fall, Christian Dior, Vanity Fair, Barbizon, Miss Elaine, Lanz, Warners and Maidenform. You'll also find a large selection of jewelry by Christian Dior, Monet, Trifara and newly added Napier.

And to accessorize that clothing outfit, select a handbag or wallet from Liz Claiborne. Courtney's also carries one of the largest selections of Hanes Hosiery. If the store

Baby Boomers Opting For Sophisticated Frozen Dinners

Many baby boomers, adults born between 1946 and 1964, who grew up with traditional TV dinners in aluminum trays are now enjoying far more sophisticated frozen dinners which meet their high standards for taste, quality, variety and convenience.

According to a report by Business Trends Analysis, retail sales of frozen dinners and entrees will reach $4.5 billion this year, a 26 percent increase from 1984 and double the 1982 figure.

Baby boomers' favorite frozen dinners today feature interesting and upscale entrees and side dishes highlighted with zesty sauces noted for their tantalizing blends of herbs and spices. This recent trend toward spicier foods is no surprise as the American Spice Trade Commission reported last year that 636-million pounds of spice were consumed by Americans, a third more spice than was used just 10 years ago.

Frozen food companies are capitalizing on the maturing and increasingly sophisticated palates of baby boomers with innovations.

One of Stouffer's dinners, zesty Chicken Monterey, is a perfect example of what appeals to today's baby boomers. The whole-half of a chicken breast is marinated and broiled and covered in a tangy sour cream and Monterey Jack cheese sauce accented with jalapeno peppers. The side dishes include lightly seasoned whipped sweet potatoes sprinkled with almonds and a vegetable medley of corn, diced red peppers and zucchini quarters.

The Dinner Supreme line includes chicken parmigiana, veal parmigiana, turkey divan, chicken with supreme sauce, baked chicken breast with gravy, chicken Florentine, Salisbury steak, beef teriyaki and beef tips bourguignonne.

Newly-opened Skin Salon Caters To Individual Needs

Mother and daughter team Brenda and Joy McCrensky opened Ashley Paige Skin Care Salon on the second floor of the Barnard Building two months ago.

The McCrenskys and their staff of experienced aestheticians do full-service facials, waxing, eyelash tinting and makeup applications.

This is the second store opened by the McCrenskys, who have another one in Chelmsford. The Chelmsford branch is five years old.

"We have our own line of specialized skin care products and a complete line of makeup — all customized according to the client's skin tones," Joy McCrensky said.

Ashley Paige also caters to the special problems teenagers have with their skin.

The salon offers a day of beauty, complete with facial, eyelash tinting and brow shaping — for customers who just want to be pampered. Ashley Paige shares space with the Nail Place, so if you want a complete makeover, the second floor of the Barnard Building is the place to go.

Ashley Paige is open 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Tuesday to Friday and 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday. The telephone number is 475-2956.

Elizabeth Rose Is Fashion Experience

Elizabeth Rose Boutique is showing women what it really means to have a fashion experience. What started out as merely an idea has grown into a shop where the various needs of women are listened and catered to. The mother/daughter proprietors, Rosemary O'Callaghan and Lori Michaud, saw a need for a shop that not only offered clothing and accessories that add personality, but were of only the highest quality and offered at a great price.

Elizabeth Rose addresses the contemporary woman who is confident in herself and wants to be noticed when she enters a room. Every client is catered to personally by the owners who listen to the needs of each client in order to put together a complete outfit or choose a particular item to complete an outfit they already have.

When you walk into Elizabeth Rose, you can't help but feel elegant. The decor consists of soft colors, silk flowers and glass. The music is soft and the sitting area is perfect for the man who wishes to accompany his special woman.

The Best Reason to Buy the New Audi 80 or 90 from Park Audi....is Our People

Unquestionably there are numerous reasons to purchase one of our two new Audi's; ABS brakes, Torsen® lock differential, 100 % steel bodies, a 3 year or 50,000 mile warranty, plus superior performance and quality compared to BMW and Mercedes 190. However...our people make the significant difference.

Our employees are our premier asset: you will notice the difference from moment of purchase through cordial contact with all of our service department personnel.

Individuals purchase automobiles at Park because our staff is attuned to our customer's needs.

Our staff is composed of professionals who are proud of our product and sensitive to your automotive needs. All adhere to the Park philosophy of "professionals serving professionals." The whole crew is committed to quality care -- our office help, select sales assistants, our service technicians, body shop crew, and parts department personnel: all are articulate, attentive individuals who aspire to ensure that your Audi automotive experience is supremely enjoyable.

We all believe in our We Care Program.

Come drive the new Audi 80 and Audi 90.

They're the cars the Germans have been and are passing up the BMW 325 and Mercedes-Benz 190 for. No wonder. You'll find the Audis among the most sophisticated European sports sedans ever built and the very best of Audi's innovative engineering achievements.

Consider the new Audi 90 Quattro. Its permanent all-wheel drive system perhaps best exemplifies Audi's commitment to automotive advancement. In 1988, this worldwide rally-proven system has been refined to include a TORSEN® differential that automatically distributes engine power to all four wheels. The new Audi 90, meanwhile, is equipped with reassuring front-wheel drive.

An Anti-Lock Braking System (ABS) is standard on both. Quick stops on slippery roads are more easily controlled.

Five cylinders produce 130 HP. Sixty is achieved in a mere 8.5 seconds. And top track speed is 128 MPH.

Inside, sporty leather seats hold you firmly and comfortably, while the ergonomically designed controls are placed conveniently within your reach. It is an interior that has been engineered around the driver.

Both models have 100% galvanized steel bodies and like all 1988 Audis, are backed by a 6-year limited warranty against corrosion perforation and a 3-year/50,000 mile new vehicle limited warranty. Come see us for details.

Value? When you compare a similarly equipped BMW 325i or 325ix or Mercedes 190e to the Audi sports sedans, the Audis cost thousands less.*

Come in for a test drive. You'll quickly appreciate why the Audi sports sedans are sold out in Germany and are out-selling their prestigious German competitors.

an. If he chooses, he may relax while being served a cup of coffee.

O'Callaghan and Michaud wanted to bring the elegant atmosphere, exquisite style of clothing and personal service of a Newbury Street store to downtown Andover, but wanted to make it more friendly and affordable.

The clothing is extraordinary and ranges from pieces that are rich in detail to a selection of handwashable silks that can be mixed and matched to create a versatile wardrobe. For those shopping for their cruise/resort vacation, Elizabeth Rose carries a line where the designer uses soft draping in cool fabrics that flatters any figure.

The accessories are exquisite with belts and scarves from Paris and better costume jewelry that is so unique it sells as quickly as it comes in. The handbags are made of the softest detailed leathers and some of the jewelry is handcrafted and imported from Greece.

The owners have many events planned for their clients that you wouldn't want to miss out on, so come in and visit, and while you're there, don't forget to sign the guestbook. Elizabeth Rose is located at 12 Main St. on the new third floor in the Barnard Building and is open Thursday and Friday evenings until 8 p.m. doesn't carry it, let the Zolners special order that color or size for you.

Most important to Courtney's business is the cosmetics department which continues to offer the finest selection in the Andover area. It is the only store in the area authorized to offer lines such as Estee Lauder, Clinique, Lancome and Elizabeth Arden, with the sales staff being trained on a regular basis from these companies.

Another goal of the Zolners for 1988 is to acquire as many of the latest and hottest selling fragrances direct. In 1987, they were able to obtain Obsession and Shalimar direct, along with many optimistic meetings with several other fragrance companies to carry their prestige fragrance lines. This Christmas, Obsession, Poison, White Linen, Shalimar and Anais Anais did extremely well as did Polo, Drakkar, Aramis and Obsession for men. Remember, if you don't see your favorite fragrance, ask, because it can usually be gotten in a short time.

So, you see, you don't need to travel to the mall for your cosmetics, hosiery, fragrances or any gift ideas because Courtney's Collections carries it all.

Courtney's Collections, in addition to offering quality merchandise, offers quality service and individualized attention that each one of its customers deserves. The Zolners look forward to seeing you this year and hope you'll stop in at "Andover's elegant little dept. store."

St. Augustine's Paces Church League

By Rick Harrison

St. Augustine A has established itself as the class of the Andover Church Basketball League senior Division (13-15 years), remaining undefeated and taking a full two-game lead over the rest of the field at the midway point of the 1987-88 season.

An early battle of the unbeaten ended in a surprisingly one-sided romp as St. Augustine A erupted for 42 points in the middle two quarters en route to a 66-32 victory over St. Robert's A.

In other recent action, SAA, 4-0 overall with a healthy 194-125 scoring edge on the opposition, whipped intro-church rivals St. Augustine B 44-34 and St. Augustine C 45-23.

Four other teams have two losses, St. Roberts A and St. Robert's B at 3-2, Ballardvale United at 2-2 and South Church at 2-2.

No one is running away with the individual scoring title. Joe Marinaro of St. Augustine is the current leader with 56 points (14.0 average) while George Bilger of Ballardvale United has 46, Brendan Sharkey of St. Augustine A and Kevin Ring of St. Robert's B 42 apiece and Matt Grant of South 41.

St. Augustine A, 66-32

St. Robert's A had used an effective, stifling full-court press to limit its first two opponents to 16 and 18 points, but St. Augustine A constantly beat the pressure and dropped through easy lay-ups to pad the score.

The first quarter ended in a 6-6 stalemate, but Brendan Sharkey hit 6-of-7 shots in the second period to key a 20-8 St. Augustine A run that put the game away.

Joe Marinaro and Mike LeBreck combined for 15 points in the third quarter as St. Augustine A used a 22-8 burst to heighten its lead.

LeBreck led four SAA players into double figures with 16 points, Marinaro added 15, Sharkey 14 and Mark Shapiro 10. Dallas Babineau and Chris Folz completed the division leader's attack with 6 and 5 points, respectively.

Marc Selvitelli pocketed 12 points and Dan French 10 for St. Robert's A, Kevin Lewis, E.J. Hayes, Bill Sullivan and Dave Gardner one basket apiece while Chris Dziadosz swished a pair of free throws.

St. Robert's B, 35-34

Mark Baker converted the game-winning free throw with 23 seconds to play, snapping a tie as SRB held off fast-finishing St. Augustine B (1-2 overall). The rivals were deadlocked 8-8 and 16-16 at the first two quarter breaks, but then Todd Green (seven points) and Chris Shea (five points) ignited a 14-6 St. Robert's B run in the third period that appeared to give the winners a comfortable lead.

St. Augustine B came back strongly, however, Mat McClune and Paul Lisiak sparking a 12-4 burst that tied it 34-34 in the final minute. That set the stage for Baker's clutch foul shot and St. Augustine B was unable to make good on its last possession.

Green led undermanned SRB (four players absent) with 17 points, Shea added 11, Baker 5 and Pete Caramanis 2. Paul Durant and Ian Timmons also played well.

Lisiak emerged as game-high marksman with 18 points for St. Augustine B, McClune netted 8, Tom Torrisi 4, Mike Torrisi 2 and Bobby Lee 2. Paul Bernardin and Martin Dugal were other standouts.

South Church, 41-16

South, in winning its first game, broke out to a 12-0 opening period lead and never looked back while beating St. Augustine C.

The South edge increased to 21-4 at halftime and 31-10 after three. Chethan Harish played a fine floor game, sharing scoring honors with Matt Grant at 12 points apiece. Todd Gray contributed 8 points, Doug Cullen 4, Jonathan Usher 3 and Peter Arthur 2.

Chris Zappola paced St. Augustine C with 6 points, Don Lane popped in 4, Mike Santangelo 4 and Nathan Mullett 2. Mike Cowhig, Jim Hanning, Gres Gigliotti, Rich Radulski, John Gabriel and Matt Grzybowski also played well.

South Church, 44-32

South dominated the boards in the first half and hit on a high percentage of its shots en route to the mini-upset over an inconsistent St. Robert's A squad.

Matt Grant and Chethan Harish led the winner's attack with 14 and 13 points, respectively, Jonathan Usher netted 8, Todd Gray 4, Doug Cullen 4 and Matt Doyle a free throw. Mark Lastrina also played well for South, which led 18-10 after one quarter, 24-12 at halftime and 34-18 after three periods.

Dan French paced the balanced SRA charge with 11 points, Marc Selvitelli contributed 9, Kevin Lewis 8 (all second half), Chris Dziadosz 2 and E.J. Hayes a pair of free throws. Chris Klein and Dave Gardner were other standouts.

St. Robert's B, 41-16

St. Robert's B was in firm control over Ballardvale throughout, assuming a commanding 24-11 halftime lead and outpointing BU 17-5 after intermission. Kevin Ring had 8 points, Adam Ferry 7, Paul Durant 6, Bill Tobin 6, Chris Shea 4, Pete Caraman 3, Mark Baker 3, Todd Green 2 and Brendan O'Leary 2.

George Bilger was game-high for Ballardvale with 9 points, Adam Guild scored 5 and Brad Litchfield had a second-quarter field goal. Gary Znamierowski, Dave Livingston and Rick Guenther were other leaders.

St. Augustine A, 45-23

The division leaders were ice cold from the floor in the first half, taking just a 14-11 lead at the midpoint. But St. Augustine A caught fire in the final two quarters, using their fast break to pick up 31 points en route to the triumph over intra-church rival St. Augustine C.

Joe Marinaro tossed through 13 points, while Brendan Sharkey and Mike LeBreck swished 10 points each.

Mark Shapiro delivered 8 points, Brian Workman 2 and Jim D'Angelo 2. Mike Cowhig and Chris Zappala led SAC with 9 and 8 points, respectively. Don Lane stuffed 3 points, Rich Radulski converted two free throws and Greg Gigliotti one charity.

St. Augustine A, 44-34

St. Augustine B threw a scare into its unbeaten opponent in the first half, hitting from the outside and slowing down the pace to take a 19-16 lead into the third quarter.

In the final two periods, however, St. Augustine A controlled the defensive boards and moved the devastating fast-break into overdrive to literally run away with the victory.

Joe Marinaro had 18 points, 12 in the final half, while Mike LeBreck hooped 8, Chris Folz 8 and Brendan Sharkey 6. Dallas Babineau and Adam Goddess threw in second-half baskets.

Matt McClune had 8 for SAB, Tom Torrisi 6, Paul Lisiak 6, Jamey Lioonette 5, Jim Landry 5, Bobby Lee 3 and Mike Torrisi a free throw.

St. Robert's A, 38-37

St. Robert's A, coming off a lackluster effort against St. Augustine A, upset the taller St. Robert's B squad. The winners started slowly, but shot well from the floor and held on at the finish for the tight triumph.

SRA led 36-32 with two minutes to play, but baskets by Jason Blandini and Kevin Ring of SRB tied it 36-36. Ring added his 20th point of the afternoon, a free throw, with 0:23 left to give St. Robert's B a 37-36 edge. Dan French became the hero with four seconds to play, driving to the hoop and banking in a shot to make it 38-37. Chris Dziadosz had 14 points, French 10, Marc Selvitelli 8 and Kevin Lewis 6. Chris Klein, E.J. Hayes and Dave Gardner also aided the cause.

Ring's 20 points were game-high while Blandini contributed 8, Chris Shea 4, Mark Baker 2, Brendan O'Leary 2 and Adam Ferry a free throw.

Ballardvale, 51-21

Ballardvale bolted to a 12-3 lead over St. Augustine C after one quarter and blew the game wide open with a 16-3 run in the third period. Mike Henry led the assault with 16 points, George Bilger had 15, Andrew Leinson 10, Gary Znamierowski 4, Moe Henderson 4 and Dave Livingston 2.

Mike Cowhig guided the SAC offense with 11 points, Greg Gigliotti had 4, Rich Radulski 4 and Jim Hanning a pair of free throws.
